Tornadoes Kill 5, Hurt 59 In Texas And Oklahoma

By The Associated Press

Violent spring storms which struck devastating blows across sections of Texas and Oklahoma abated today, leaving a toll of dead and injured and extensive property damage.

Tornadoes killed at least six persons in two small communities in north central Texas: More than a half dozen twisters which raked the two states also injured 59 persons, including 51 in Texas.

There were no survivors after an Air Force KC135 tanker plane from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., crashed and burned during a severe thunderstorm near Killeen in central Texas. The plane normally carries a crew of four but Air Force officials declined to say how many men were on the plane.

The tornadic winds which pounded the north central Texas area and sections of northeast Oklahoma flattened and damaged scores of homes, damaged gasoline plants and toppled 20 derricks in one of the largest oil fields in north central Texas.

The storms were part of a general pattern of severe weather from Texas into parts of eastern Oklahoma, western Arkansas, southeastern Kansas and western Missouri. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds lashed the region.

The tornadoes in Texas hit hardest at the small towns of Vaughan and Bynum, 10 miles east. Three persons died and 20 others were injured in the wreckage of their homes in Vaughan. Two persons were killed and 11 injured at Bynum. Seventeen persons suffered injuries when a twister hammered three small towns northeast of Gainesville.

A woman was killed when the funnel lifted a car from a highway near Vaughan and hurled the vehicle into a field 100 yards away.

The small community of Silver City, 30 miles west of Tulsa, suffered heaviest damage in the tornadoes which struck northeast Oklahoma. Police estimated three-fourths of the farm community was damaged. The second twister in Oklahoma skipped across a tourist court near Kingston on Lake Texoma, demolishing two cabins and a home.

Funnels were sighted in Kansas and a city-wide tornado alert was posted for Kansas City, Mo. for 15 minutes Tuesday night. Rain, strong wind and some hail lashed the area.

Rain pelted wide sections from the tornado belt northward into Iowa and Illinois. Heaviest falls were in northern areas from Kansas City into southern Iowa.

Heavy rain showers with possible severe thunderstorms were expected to spread through the middle Mississippi Valley during the day and into the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania and New York by late afternoon or early evening.

Scooter Bill Comes Up In House Again

Has 'Grandfather' Clause; Franchise Tax Clears House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bill to ban motor scooter operator licenses for 14 and 15-year-olds makes a second appearance on the Ohio House floor today.

It now contains a "grandfather" clause which permits youngsters who got their licenses before March 11 to keep them.

The bill was up for a vote two weeks ago, but got so snarled up in crippling amendments that it was shunted back to committee for further study.

The first bill of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's one-third-billion-dollar tax program cleared the House hurdle Tuesday and went to the Senate. It would double the corporation franchise tax to produce an extra 24 million dollars in treasury revenue in the next two years.

The Senate plans to complete legislative action today on an emergency bill to extend for the rest of the year the special 13-week unemployment benefits for those who have exhausted their regular 26 weeks of benefits and are unemployed.

The Senate planned to act less than 48 hours after the bill cleared the House. The reason for the burst of speed was the fact that the act which set up the special benefits program last June is due to expire Saturday. The extended program of special benefits will become effective as soon as DiSalle signs the bill.

Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) told newsmen he assumes there will be enough Republican votes to support the bill's emergency clause. Two GOP votes are needed to give the emergency clause the needed two-thirds vote.

The Senate also will vote today on a House-approved bill to increase fees charged by various county offices to persons using the services of the offices. Some of the fees have not been changed for 80 years.

The Senate passed unanimously and sent to the House a bill inspired by an 11-year-old Cincinnati boy to make "With God All Things Are Possible" the state motto. The bill originally was sponsored by Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton) on behalf of Jimmie Mastronardo, a sixth-grade pupil at Cincinnati's Hartwell Public School.

After his bill was introduced, Sens. Lowell Fess (R-Greene) and Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning) became co-sponsors.

The House adopted a joint resolution providing that a committee of six Senators and six House members attend the dedication of the Robert A. Taft Memorial in Washington April 14.

The Senate adopted a resolution congratulating Woody Deitch and his Salem High School basketball team on an outstanding season.

Signed in both houses was a bill conveying state-owned canal lands to Coshocton.

A house - to - house solicitation will be held April 22, according to Mrs. Jane Jolly, secretary, and Boy Scout Troop 7 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, with Charles McBride scoutmaster, will distribute the canisters and posters among business places Saturday. Jobless Pay Extension Bill Signed By Ike WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower signed into law Tuesday the bill extending the temporary jobless pay program to June 30.

Congress sent the bill to the White House last week before taking off for an Easter vacation.

It is estimated to benefit about 405,000 persons at a cost of 78 million dollars.

The old law was due to expire today.

Under the program, unemployed workers may get as much as 13 extra weeks of unemployment compensation.

The law provides for federal loans to the states to increase the duration of their payments by as much as 50 per cent.

The length of payments vary with individual states but some pay 26 weeks.

CHARLESTON (AP) —The Employment Security Department awaited word from Washington today as to when it officially can take part in the extended temporary unemployment compensation program.

'Chain Crash' Of 7 Vehicles Occurs In Fog

3 Occupants Hurt; 2 Late Model Autos Totally Demolished

Two late model autos were demolished and three Dravo Co. construction workers were injured in a "chain collision" involving a total of seven vehicles that piled up on Route 2 south of New Cumberland in the dense fog early this morning.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the pileup occurred when the lead car halted for a motorist making a turn near Hobart's Run intersection and the trailing autos and a truck were unable to stop in time.

The injured trio were riding in the last auto in line.

They included the driver of the seventh car, William J. Zoellers, 21, a former East Liverpool resident, Nick Amgracchi, 32, and Robert Vanhoy, 42, all of Weirton.

Zoellers was treated at the Weirton General Hospital for head and neck injuries and Vanhoy for knee and chest injuries. Amgracchi was to be X-rayed this morning and may be hospitalized.

Zoellers' 1958 Ford two-door sedan was demolished, deputies said.

All the vehicles were heading north and all but Zoellers and his passengers were returning home from work at the Weirton Steel Co.

Those hurt are employed on the New Cumberland side of the superdam being built at Stratton.

The other drivers involved, in order of position in the "caravan," and estimated damages to their cars, were:

Andy Wigner, 36, of New Cumberland R. D. 1, a 1958 pickup truck, about $15.

William Webster, 20, of New Cumberland R. D. 1, a 1957 coupe, $300.

Orval M. Jones, 50, of River Ave., New Cumberland, a 1955 car, $300.

Henry V. Markowicz, 40, of Weirton, a 1955 sedan, $100.

Oliver R. Glass, 50, of Pughtown, a 1956 Ford sedan, demolished.

Theodore Poling, 25, of New Cumberland R. D. 1, a 1953 coupe, $100.

Deputies said no arrests were made. The accident occurred at 7:20 a. m. when driving conditions were hazardous because of the thick fog.

Ministers Pessimistic Of Response

Probe Willingness Of Reds To Meet At Geneva Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allied foreign ministers were reported working steadily toward agreement today on a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for sweeping settlements of the Berlin crisis and the future of Germany.

Their primary purpose is to probe the Soviet Union's willingness, if any, to negotiate at Geneva next month on German unification and European arms control measures. They were reported pessimistic about the possibility of a favorable Soviet response but were described as agreeing that the effort must be made.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France, West Germany and Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter were scheduled to hold the second round of their Washington talks in a State Department conference room.

The initial session Tuesday, held by Herter with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville produced a new warning to the Soviets against taking a summit conference this summer for granted.

In a public statement, the Western Big Three reasserted the stand taken in notes to the Soviet government last week that the May meeting of foreign ministers must make some progress toward solving the Berlin and German problem in order to justify a meeting at the summit.

They welcomed Monday's note from the Soviet Union agreeing to the May 11 Big Four conference at Geneva. But the Western statement Tuesday night specified once more than the Germans should be included in the foreign minsters meeting as "advisers" because the Soviet note had referred merely to representation from East and West Germany.

A State Department spokesman said that differences among the Western allies were discussed, some were resolved and some will "require more discussion." But he declined to specify what differences he was talking about.

However, it is known, for example, that the United States, France and West Germany believe any deal with the Soviets for limiting military forces of the Western powers in the Soviet bloc in Central Europe must be tied in to an agreement for steps toward German unification. The British government has been interested in the possibility of measures looking toward armed forces limitation even if the bid for unification is rejected by the Soviets.

U.S. Serves Reds Notice On Air Trips

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Air Force served notice on the Soviets today it will go on flying high altitude transports to West Berlin "if at any time a military requirement is established."

An Air Force spokesman made this statement shortly after a Soviet Embassy warning that complications would arise if the United States persisted in flying planes to West Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

The spokesman said that if at any time a military requirement is established for transporting cargo or military personnel in or out of West Berlin the high-altitude planes will be used.

"The most efficient altitude for carrying cargo over relatively short runs is between 20,000 and 30,000 feet, depending on winds and cargo," he added.

A guarded statement from the Soviet Embassy hinted that explosive incidents might erupt in the three air corridors used by Western planes into the isolated city unless there is a settlement of the dispute which became public Tuesday.

The U.S. State Department has declared that the United States will continue to fly planes into Berlin at whatever altitude it deems necessary.

They were at work at the Summitville Face Brick Co. when an old beehive kiln, being dismantled, collapsed as a steel brace was cut.

Law Officials Urge Action To Curb Ohio Sex Crimes

By DUANE CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A large group of law officials pleaded before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday night for a far-sighted campaign to cut sex crimes in Ohio.

They urged the 103rd General Assembly to approve a bill to register habitual sex offenders and a resolution calling for a full study of rape and other sex crimes.

Judges, prosecutors, policemen and parents testified in favor of the measures. Typical of their comments was the testimony of Common Pleas Judge John Rossetti of Canton, long a promoter of a campaign against sex crimes.

Rossetti said the registration bill would both reduce sex offenses in the community and help law enforcement officers to solve those that do occur.

He declared that a good percentage, perhaps even a majority, of sex crimes are committed by repeaters. If they were required to register, he said, the investigation of sex crimes would be faster and more successful.

He added that the incidence of such offenses would be reduced because the officials could keep a closer watch on the known deviates.

The registration lists also would provide better coordination of the law enforcement agencies of the various communities in the state, he said.

Rossetti and other witnesses said their only complaint with the present bill is that it does not provide stiff enough penalties for offenders who fail to register. Only fines would be levied the way it now stands. Rossetti told the committee he believed a jail sentence to be imposed at the discretion of the trial judge should be added.

The resolution requests the legislative service commission, research arm of the assembly, to make a complete study in the next two years of Ohio's laws on sex crimes.

Rossetti testified that Ohio is far behind other states and its statutes are outmoded for meeting the problem in terms of modern knowledge.

"It's about time the legislature of Ohio did something to try to protect the women and children of this state," he said.

He added the proposed study would be a desirable adjunct to the registration measure and that both are parts of the six - point program he has been promoting before the Ohio legislature since 1953. He said the other points are:

Establish a state hospital to treat and quarantine sex deviates.

Develop a realistic program of physical and physiological treatment of persons classed as sex deviates.

Strengthen the control features of present legislation relating to such crimes.

Increase the penalties for certain types of sex crimes.

Rossetti added that the program would approach the problem from both sides — to help those offenders who can be helped and to protect society from those who cannot.

Contractor Convicted On Charge Of Forgery

LISBON — Emerson Braun, 27-year-old Salem contractor charged with forgery of a performance bond, was convicted Tuesday afternoon by a Common Pleas Court jury, which deliberated 40 minutes.

Braun, who did not testify, was found guilty of altering a $10,000 performance bond for a Youngstown project to a $170,000 bond for a Washingtonville sewage job.

Judge Joel H. Sharp deferred sentencing pending filing of a motion for a new trial.

Chamber Members Vote Support For Income Tax

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have voted "overwhelmingly" in favor of the organization supporting the city administration on re-enactment of a municipal income tax, T. Fred Edwards, president, announced today.

Each Chamber member received a letter asking him to vote "yes" or "no" on the question: "Should the Chamber of Commerce support the city administration in its plan to re-enact the income tax?" There was additional space for remarks and most of the members added a brief note explaining why they feel the tax is the answer to the city's financial problems.

Edwards added that the great majority of the Chamber's members took advantage of the opportunity to express their opinions for or against the tax and most added comments to explain their positions.

The remarks indicated that the membership generally is in favor of the Chamber supporting Council and the administration on the tax program, believing it is "the best possible way to improve the financial condition of the city," he remarked.

The comments indicated that the Chamber members feel East Liverpool needs capital improvements and improved city services if it is to move ahead and that "the income tax is the fairest way of raising the revenue to meet current

April Fool's Day No Joke For Motorists

The first fog of spring, termed the worst in a long time, settled over the Ohio Valley early today, reducing traffic to a crawl as motorists found headlights nearly useless in the thick mist.

The weatherman timed it for April Fool's Day but it was no joke to drivers. Many persons were late to work as they were forced to drive at a creeping pace.

Lack of white center lines on streets and highways added to the complications and there were several reports of cars going in the wrong direction on one-way streets.

The fog belt extended over the southern part of the county to about two miles north of Lisbon, according to the State Highway Patrol.

Officers said they received many calls from motorists seeking to know road visibility conditions in directions they planned to travel. In Lisbon and some other places the fog was so thick travel was impossible, the patrol reported.

The Rochester Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Carnegie Barracks near Pittsburgh said the fog cleared about 9 a. m.

Dam 8 at Newell said light fog developed about midnight then worsened as the cool night air descended on the relatively warmer ground and river, condensing the moisture.

The temperature rose to 66 Tues-

Traffic Over River Rd. Detoured By Sewer Job

A short detour has been established for River Rd. traffic a few hundred feet upstream from the Chester Bridge because of an excavation for replacement of a broken storm sewer.

A vitrified clay pipe underneath the road was broken badly, apparently as a result of shifting earth brought on when the River Rd. was inundated by a flood a few weeks ago, City Engineer George S. Bloomgren explained. It is being replaced with a 12-inch corrugated metal pipe.

The sewer crosses the road at right angles — starting at a catch basin on the upper side and emptying into the river. The excavation is underneath the big sewage system interceptor sewer which parallels the River Rd. Traffic is being detoured over property of YELP, Inc., on the north side of the road.

Lack of white center lines on streets and highways added to the complications and there were several reports of cars going in the wrong direction on one-way streets.

The fog belt extended over the southern part of the county to about two miles north of Lisbon, according to the State Highway Patrol.

Officers said they received many calls from motorists seeking to know road visibility conditions in directions they planned to travel. In Lisbon and some other places the fog was so thick travel was impossible, the patrol reported.

The Rochester Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Carnegie Barracks near Pittsburgh said the fog cleared about 9 a. m.

Dam 8 at Newell said light fog developed about midnight then worsened as the cool night air descended on the relatively warmer ground and river, condensing the moisture.

The temperature rose to 66 Tues-

'Chain Crash' Of 7 Vehicles Occurs In Fog

3 Occupants Hurt; 2 Late Model Autos Totally Demolished

Two late model autos were demolished and three Dravo Co. construction workers were injured in a "chain collision" involving a total of seven vehicles that piled up on Route 2 south of New Cumberland in the dense fog early this morning.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the pileup occurred when the lead car halted for a motorist making a turn near Hobart's Run intersection and the trailing autos and a truck were unable to stop in time.

The injured trio were riding in the last auto in line.

They included the driver of the seventh car, William J. Zoellers, 21, a former East Liverpool resident, Nick Amgracchi, 32, and Robert Vanhoy, 42, all of Weirton.

Zoellers was treated at the Weirton General Hospital for head and neck injuries and Vanhoy for knee and chest injuries. Amgracchi was to be X-rayed this morning and may be hospitalized.

Zoellers' 1958 Ford two-door sedan was demolished, deputies said.

All the vehicles were heading north and all but Zoellers and his passengers were returning home from work at the Weirton Steel Co.

Those hurt are employed on the New Cumberland side of the superdam being built at Stratton.

The other drivers involved, in order of position in the "caravan," and estimated damages to their cars, were:

Andy Wigner, 36, of New Cumberland R. D. 1, a 1958 pickup truck, about $15.

William Webster, 20, of New Cumberland R. D. 1, a 1957 coupe, $300.

Orval M. Jones, 50, of River Ave., New Cumberland, a 1955 car, $300.

Henry V. Markowicz, 40, of Weirton, a 1955 sedan, $100.

Oliver R. Glass, 50, of Pughtown, a 1956 Ford sedan, demolished.

Theodore Poling, 25, of New Cumberland R. D. 1, a 1953 coupe, $100.

Deputies said no arrests were made. The accident occurred at 7:20 a. m. when driving conditions were hazardous because of the thick fog.

To Call On Pope

LONDON (AP)—A royal spokesman says Queen Mother Elizabeth is calling on Pope John XXIII later this month in his capacity as head of the Vatican State and the "courtesy" visit doesn't "imply or reflect any views" on the pontiff's political or religious opinions.

Ministers Pessimistic Of Response

Probe Willingness Of Reds To Meet At Geneva Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allied foreign ministers were reported working steadily toward agreement today on a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for sweeping settlements of the Berlin crisis and the future of Germany.

Their primary purpose is to probe the Soviet Union's willingness, if any, to negotiate at Geneva next month on German unification and European arms control measures. They were reported pessimistic about the possibility of a favorable Soviet response but were described as agreeing that the effort must be made.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France, West Germany and Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter were scheduled to hold the second round of their Washington talks in a State Department conference room.

The initial session Tuesday, held by Herter with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville produced a new warning to the Soviets against taking a summit conference this summer for granted.

In a public statement, the Western Big Three reasserted the stand taken in notes to the Soviet government last week that the May meeting of foreign ministers must make some progress toward solving the Berlin and German problem in order to justify a meeting at the summit.

They welcomed Monday's note from the Soviet Union agreeing to the May 11 Big Four conference at Geneva. But the Western statement Tuesday night specified once more than the Germans should be included in the foreign minsters meeting as "advisers" because the Soviet note had referred merely to representation from East and West Germany.

A State Department spokesman said that differences among the Western allies were discussed, some were resolved and some will "require more discussion." But he declined to specify what differences he was talking about.

However, it is known, for example, that the United States, France and West Germany believe any deal with the Soviets for limiting military forces of the Western powers in the Soviet bloc in Central Europe must be tied in to an agreement for steps toward German unification. The British government has been interested in the possibility of measures looking toward armed forces limitation even if the bid for unification is rejected by the Soviets.

Traffic Over River Rd. Detoured By Sewer Job

A short detour has been established for River Rd. traffic a few hundred feet upstream from the Chester Bridge because of an excavation for replacement of a broken storm sewer.

A vitrified clay pipe underneath the road was broken badly, apparently as a result of shifting earth brought on when the River Rd. was inundated by a flood a few weeks ago, City Engineer George S. Bloomgren explained. It is being replaced with a 12-inch corrugated metal pipe.

The sewer crosses the road at right angles — starting at a catch basin on the upper side and emptying into the river. The excavation is underneath the big sewage system interceptor sewer which parallels the River Rd. Traffic is being detoured over property of YELP, Inc., on the north side of the road.

Legislature Dissolved

WINNIPEG (AP) — Manitoba's Legislature was dissolved Tuesday night after Prime Minister Duff Roblin's minority government met defeat on a confidence motion. Provincial general elections were scheduled for May 14.

'Overwhelming' Backing

Chamber Members Vote Support For Income Tax

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have voted "overwhelmingly" in favor of the organization supporting the city administration on re-enactment of a municipal income tax, T. Fred Edwards, president, announced today.

Each Chamber member received a letter asking him to vote "yes" or "no" on the question: "Should the Chamber of Commerce support the city administration in its plan to re-enact the income tax?" There was additional space for remarks and most of the members added a brief note explaining why they feel the tax is the answer to the city's financial problems.

Edwards added that the great majority of the Chamber's members took advantage of the opportunity to express their opinions for or against the tax and most added comments to explain their positions.

The remarks indicated that the membership generally is in favor of the Chamber supporting Council and the administration on the tax program, believing it is "the best possible way to improve the financial condition of the city," he remarked.

The comments indicated that the Chamber members feel East Liverpool needs capital improvements and improved city services if it is to move ahead and that "the income tax is the fairest way of raising the revenue to meet current conference had been set for "early April" at Pittsburgh.

The present wage agreement expires Oct. 1. It was negotiated in September 1957 at Atlantic City.

The first revelation that the IBOP had requested reopening of the agreement came Dec. 10 in the report of the labor committee presented to the USPA at its 80th annual meeting in Pittsburgh.

Several months ago, the IBOP said the request for contract reopening was filed because of "numerous petitions received by the Executive Board from affiliated unions. . ." It added that "international officials as well as the great majority of the membership are mindful of the fact that no other international unions these days are writing contracts without some provisions embodied to automatically improve the basic wage rates and benefits at the end of each fiscal year."

Wage Talks

conference had been set for "early April" at Pittsburgh.

The present wage agreement expires Oct. 1. It was negotiated in September 1957 at Atlantic City.

The first revelation that the IBOP had requested reopening of the agreement came Dec. 10 in the report of the labor committee presented to the USPA at its 80th annual meeting in Pittsburgh.

Several months ago, the IBOP said the request for contract reopening was filed because of "numerous petitions received by the Executive Board from affiliated unions. . ." It added that "international officials as well as the great majority of the membership are mindful of the fact that no other international unions these days are writing contracts without some provisions embodied to automatically improve the basic wage rates and benefits at the end of each fiscal year."

Willliam Davis, 1515 Jennings Ave., told police the antenna and a rear view mirror on his car were broken and a windshield wiper was bent sometime Tuesday night. Mrs. Larue Mooney, 1515 Russet St., told police a rear view mirror and an antenna were stolen from her car last night.

John Melvin, 713 Orchard Grove Ave., reported at 9:37 p. m. yesterday that a radio antenna had been broken off his auto. Meanwhile, Mrs. Allen Neiser of Globe St. said a bottle was hurled through an upstairs window at her home about 8:45 p. m. Tuesday.

Proof Of An NATO Pudding

If you are old enough to remember the way Europe caved in under the pressure of German expansionism in World War I and World War II, you are old enough to appreciate what will be celebrated this week on the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NATO, whatever its faults and shortcomings, has lasted through 10 years of tenuous peace. If something like it had existed in 1938, when Hitler's bully-boys were in a position to blackmail their intended victims at Munich, World War II might have been averted. If something like it had existed in 1914 when Kaiser Wilhelm's Prussian sword-rattlers were itching to show what they could do, World War I might have been averted.

If World War III can be averted in the face of the Soviet Union's muscle-flexing, NATO must be given some of the credit.

The "shield against aggression," as President Truman called it in 1949, brought into being a common strategy to turn back any blow the Russian expansionists might strike in their quest for territory.

It brought even more than that into being —a common morality among the 12 Atlantic powers. Today, the morality looms as large as the military "shield." It is the basis for a pledge from the United States to its European allies that it will defend them against Communist domination even if the military organization of NATO fails to do what was originally intended. It is the basis for the foreign ministers' conference.

The organization never achieved its goal of upward of 100 divisions. It could not summon more than 21 divisions in a showdown against the Soviet Union's 175 divisions. But it could summon within its structure enough resistance to turn aside the kind of "blitz" that tempted Hitler to strike first and think afterward. Such as it is, there is a common defense force embracing troops, nuclear weapons and a jet-powered air force in what otherwise would have been a military vacuum.

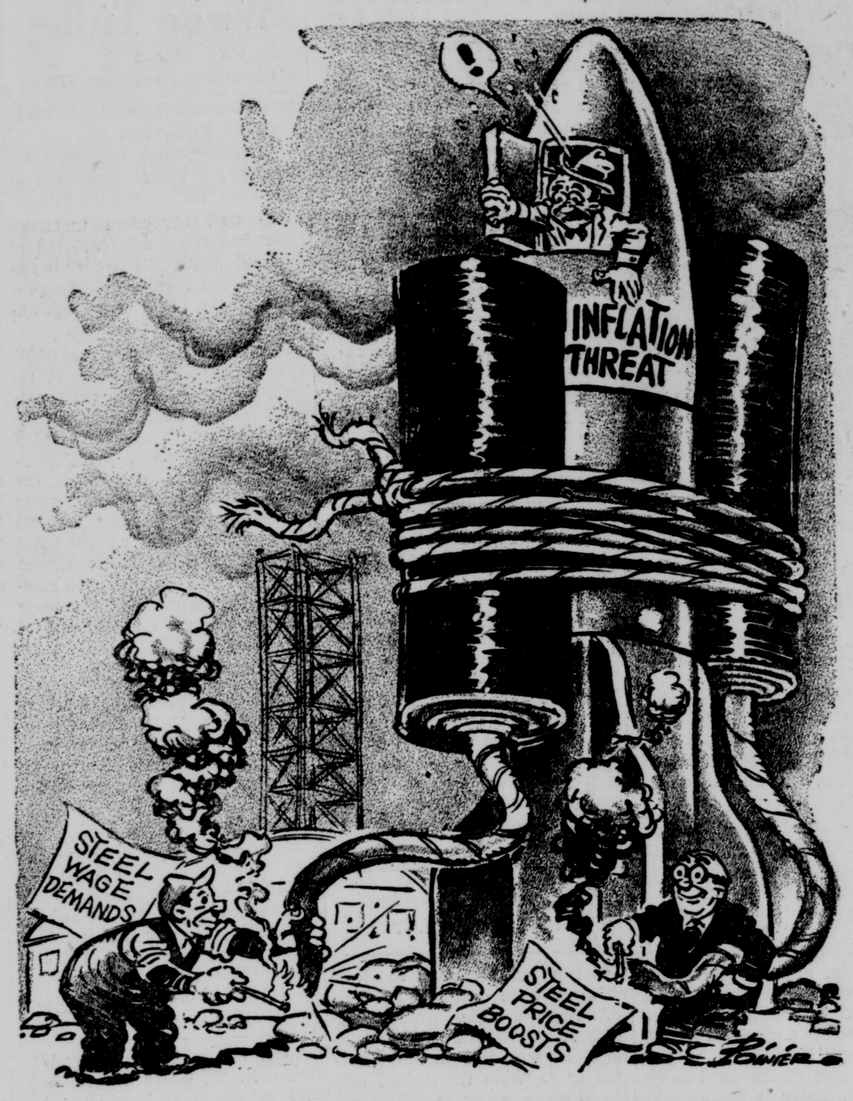
Critics who tirelessly gnaw at NATO, like those who gnaw at the United Nations, are not wholly sincere, not even if they are named Charles de Gaulle, not even if they hold the presidency of France.

They are grateful in a fashion that they have this substantial realism as a target for their criticism. Otherwise, they would be the targets, themselves, of far more damaging criticism by other critics demanding to know what tangible counter-force they intended to throw against the menace of potential aggression.

European peace has been preserved. There has been no Soviet territorial aggression into Europe. Every Soviet move in Europe has been made with the expressed or implied aim of getting rid of NATO.

There could be no firmer tribute to its usefulness than the opposition of the nation whose policy of expansion outside its borders was the primary reason for NATO's creation.

Super-Boosters



Whiteleather Vs. The Bureaucracy

Minerva's Dr. Whiteleather has lost the appeal of his conviction by the federal government for overplanting his wheat quotas in 1954 and 1956.

This is apparently the end of his personal battle to preserve his freedom. The encroachment of the federal bureaucracy that has grown up under the laws to control agricultural production as the price for the payment of subsidies to agriculture has gone too far for him to stop it. In his case, fortunately, his livelihood is not at stake; he does not rely on agriculture for his income. But most farm owners do rely on it. Farming to them is not only a way of making a living but a way of living.

They have learned to their sorrow, if they valued their personal freedom, that they were expected to yield part of it for the subsidies they received under federal agricultural policy. But not all farmers have resented this. Federal agricultural policy is not under fire by the freedom-lovers as much as by agricultural interests that want more, not less, subsidies and the controls that go with subsidies.

They are dead-set against Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who sympathized with Dr. Whiteleather. He has been made their favorite whipping boy in politics. Many Democrats and Republicans in Congress blame him for his views on the importance of restoring independence to farmers through free marketing and systematic improvement of agricultural production.

Dr. Whiteleather, Secretary Benson and all who take their side in opposing creeping socialism in agriculture are a minority. The important thing about their position is, though, that they have had the courage to fight, even though they have not been able to win.

There are many losing battles that free men must fight, because that is the only way they can assert their love of freedom. Sometimes they win, but rarely. But even when they lose they leave behind them the record of their fight, and others who respect them for it take up the battle anew in their own time.

That is the way freedom has been won. That is the way it is preserved.

That is the way it has been lost, too.

If the Whiteleathers and Bensons are never to be vindicated—if the politicians and farmers who admire socialized agriculture continue to ride high—a key battle in America's never-ending war for freedom will have been lost.

Labor 'March' Furthers Feud

By Victor Riesel

There are angry labor leaders feuding behind the scenes, charging that some of their national chiefs have forced them to "pussyfoot" instead of parade during what originally was to be a "march on Washington."

Victor Riesel

The rueful ones who would parade tens of thousands through the Capital City streets on April 8 are the supporters of Walter Reuther. They are the ones hurling the "pussyfoot" charge at national labor chief George Meany. By the time the day of the demonstration is over, these two men may well be in the second round of the bout which began in February during the Puerto Rican session of AFL-CIO's high command.

Eager to avoid having tens of thousands of labor delegates romping through the streets, Meany had put a quota on the number of men each union can dispatch to the 5,500-seat National Guard Armory. Then he heard that Reuther's followers in the former CIO unions were asking other units if they needed help in filling their quotas.

REUTHER, for example, was anxious to put 10,000 men in the capital and its buildings that day. But the national office quota is one for every thousand members — WHICH GIVES Reuther exactly 43 in New Jersey, where tens of thousands, within a few hours of Washington, are unemployed. And the quota allows the entire Auto Union, with over 300,000 jobless, exactly 1,000 "delegates" to the protest - unemployment meeting.

Meany quickly dispatched word that there was not to be any filling by one union of another outfit's quota. He set up a strict credential system under a credential committee which would do credit to a national political nominating convention. The Armory that day will be carefully supervised. No one will get in without the card which has been issued through the national labor headquarters via the regional central labor councils.

FURTHERMORE, Meany and his national office colleagues have limited the areas from which delegates can be sent. This is roughly a 15-city northeast chunk of the nation reaching from Richmond, Va. up to Boston, over to Chicago and back again on a line weaving through Cincinnati.

But it would take a Perry Mason with an assist from Scotland Yard and the FBI to find any intention among the militants of the old CIO unions to take these orders. They're preparing to pour it on Washington.

The delegates already have lined up scores of special railroad, bus and even air transport. Typical is the 1,000 - delegate chartered train which will run from New York to Washington.

There will be one special bus caravan of 500 Auto Workers in addition to those who can pay for rail and plane trips. Hundreds of others are planning to make their way from other headquarters known as "The United Auto Workers Unemployed Workers Information and Service Centers."

There will be special trains from Chicago and other industrial centers. They're out for the old-fashioned demonstrations which the CIO featured when it hit the streets under John Lewis, Phil Murray and Sidney Hillman in the very early days. Those who can't jam their way into the Armory will be invited to auxiliary meetings.

TYPICAL OF THESE will be a mass demonstration and "austerity supper" in a local high school. This has been set by Jim Carey, leader of the International Union of Electrical Workers and an ally of Reuther's during the sulphurous civil war last February.

It was Carey's idea to run an "austerity supper" costing each diner a quarter or 30 cents — just about what the host union believes an unemployed worker on relief spends on a meal.

Obviously, after the speaking and parading and austerity dining are over, the feuding will begin. It isn't, of course, that Meany is less concerned over the jobless than Reuther. It's their tactics and personalities which clash.

Long after the demonstrators have rolled home in their caravans and their shouting has died down —the more subdued noises of the clash between Meany and Reuther will be heard through the land.

Dulles' Words Missed

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The absence of John Foster Dulles, ill with cancer, has left a vacuum in Washington. At this time of trouble with the Soviet Union he could have been making the most use of his special technique.

That technique was to hold news conferences where he could do a number of jobs at once: Get across American viewpoints, state foreign policy positions, float trial balloons, answer the Soviets, try to put them on the defensive.

Secretary of State Dulles held more news conferences than any other member of President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Undersecretary Christian A. Herter — the man who is taking Dulles' place—has not held a news conference since Dulles went to the hospital Feb. 9.

It is understandable that Herter should be reluctant to sound off. Although Dulles was in the hospital, Eisenhower consulted with him frequently and Herter could hardly try to run the show.

Eisenhower relied on Dulles in foreign affairs to an amazing degree, and delegated to him enormous power and responsibility, particularly as a spokesman.

Eisenhower's news conference were never the same as Dulles' if only because he lacked Dulles' detailed knowledge of events abroad. But he also lacked Dulles' training and skill in language.

Eisenhower, with Dulles no longer at his side, in recent weeks has asserted more leadership in foreign affairs than when Dulles was in there carrying the ball. The President has been increasingly forceful.

Anyone who ever attended a Dulles news conference could not but admit he was a master at using the precise phrase to get the exact effect he sought.

A great deal which could be said about the Berlin crisis is going unsaid because Dulles isn't there, Herter has held no news conferences and Eisenhower's news conferences provide about all the administration is saying on Berlin.

The recent conference here between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is a good example of how Dulles' presence on the scene is missed.

The British managed to pump out to correspondents—or to selected correspondents—the British viewpoint. The American viewpoint in the talks with Macmillan was much less publicized.

Dulles, if he had been around, would have taken care of that.

Ironically, it is possible the Soviets have agreed to a foreign ministers meeting on Berlin — preliminary to a summit meeting —because it seems unlikely Dulles could attend it.

Before the Soviets ever created the Berlin crisis they were calling on Eisenhower early in 1958 to meet them at the summit.

They had long correspondence with the President about it. But early in that letter-writing campaign the then Premier Bulganin made it plain the Soviets did not want a foreign ministers meeting with Dulles.

Bulganin didn't mention Dulles by name but even so he was almost insulting in the way he told Eisenhower that trying to do business with Dulles, from the Soviet viewpoint, was no good.

It was only in March — after Dulles' condition had been diagnosed as cancer and it seemed probable he would never return to his post — that the Soviets agreed to a foreign ministers meeting before holding a summit conference.

An Exercise In Military Logic

It is too much to expect that the Eisenhower administration will get a consensus of either military or nonmilitary opinion on its decision to sidestep a long-range missle race with the Soviet Union.

But it is not too much to expect that generals and admirals who make public statements and the public whose opinion is supposed to be swayed by the militarists will try to understand what is involved in the discussion.

This is an exercise in military logic that is always difficult. There is no absolute guarantee that it will produce the desired result. But neither is there any absolute guarantee that it will be a failure.

The key to the logic is whether the desired result is maximum security for a fixed term or maximum security for an indefinite term.

If it is to be the Soviet Union's decision to stockpile large numbers of intercontinental-range missiles on the basis of prototypes already tested and found satisfactory, that will be an indication that Russian militarists are seeking maximum security for a fixed term.

At the end of the term, they will possess a great many missiles that will be obsolete, if the rule of technological advance that depreciates the value of military hardware stays in effect. If there is no war to use up missile inventory, the inventory must be written off and replaced with newer models.

Even if Russian missile designers are perfectly satisfied with the weapons they now are producing, they cannot bar the possibility of improvement. They, themselves, will be looking for improvement as avidly as the missile experts in all other countries.

U. S. missile experts are not satisfied that they have a perfect prototype. They are still looking for it among the assortment of missiles designed and tested by the armed services. In the meantime, while they continue to look for a prototype — a satisfactory working model — the short-term security of the country will be guaranteed by a weapons system already proved — the long-range Strategic Air Command, backed up by the other military resources of the country.

There will be no massive inventory of missiles to grow obsolete. The United States will depend, instead, on the ability to produce the best-designed weapons it has created, while seeking still better designs.

It will forego massive inventory of weapons in favor of flexibility of choice. It will avoid the mistake France made when it trusted its defense in the 1930s to a Maginot Line and the mistake Germany made when it based its military gamble on aerial attack that was turned back by British Spitfires that were not even in existence when World War II began.

Frantic Financing

By David Lawrence

Inflation Policy Undermines Economy

There seems to be joy in some quarters that the budget is going to be unbalanced. Judging by some of the comments from Democrats on Capitol Hill, this proves that President Eisenhower was all wrong and that, since the budget is going to be unbalanced by more than a billion, it might as well be unbalanced by three or four or five billions.

David Lawrence

When Congress comes back from its recess, the drive to spend more and hence make the deficit bigger will take on momentum. It seems to be taken for granted that only the prestige of the President—not the pocketbook of the American people—is going to be hurt by the failure to reduce the deficits.

IT'S HARD for the average man to realize just what is involved in budget balancing and in the increases in Treasury deficits. At the National Press Club luncheon the other day for Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, this question was asked with reference to the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar from 100 cents in 1939 to 48 cents today:

"If I have only a 48-cent 'buck' in my pocket, haven't I got 48 cents more than I had in the depression?"

Dr. Saulnier replied that nobody now is much concerned with 1939 except historically and then added pointedly:

"I'd like to protect your 48 cents, you see, from now on."

This is a simple statement of a dilemma that faces the American people. Do they want to see the dollar decline still further in purchasing power so that the 48 cents they have today would before long be cut down to 24 cents?

THE DRAMA of money—the threat of printing-press currency—is not yet a subject of popular discussion. But among those whose business it is to deal in government securities—a man, for instance, like Aubrey G. Lanston of the New York firm which bears his name—the topic is very live. Mr. Lanston, speaking a few days ago before the Cleveland Society of Security analysts, said:

"I think it will become plain that the people of this country will have to make a choice, sometime over the near future, either by positive action or through default. They can force Congress to administer federal finances in a responsible way—something we have urged other so-called less advanced countries to do—or we will end up, first, with selective controls of a mushrooming character and, ultimately, with a chaotic breakdown in our economy. . . .

"The financial irresponsibility on the part of the government has created a series of deficits that have been financed by commercial banks. No matter what you have read to the contrary, that is the fact.

"Further, it seems inevitable that the commercial banks will be obliged to absorb whatever deficits develop from here on. It also seems likely that the increase in the government security holdings of commercial banks will enlarge by somewhat more than the amount of future deficits because the banks will be the only major buyers left. Therefore, the banks also will have to absorb whatever government securities are sold by others.

"This kind of frenzied public finance poses a serious threat. . . .

"We should recognize now that the number of spending measures that have been, or will be passed between now and the close of the 86th Congress, call for increased government spending for fiscal 1961 and for later years, too. The prospect of another deficit—for fiscal 1961—coming on top of a deficit the fiscal 1960 and all those that have preceded these, could produce some substantial, unstabilizing, psychological repercussions. The nonchalant, fiddling attitude of Congress—as a whole—toward a balanced budget for 1960 may be building a base for explosive developments later on."

THESE ARE significant words from one of those persons who normally speak in the most restrained phrases about government finances. Mr. Lanston's concluding advice to the public might well be pondered by those members of Congress and others who have been ridiculing the idea of a balanced budget. He said:

"Here is the way I look at the picture. I can see no point in investing in the lowest yielding credit of all—U.S. Treasury securities—at long-term in a background wherein the purchasing power of the dollar has been depreciating and seems likely to continue to depreciate. . . . Therefore, the best buys in government securities are those that are short in term."

But what is this going to do to the Treasury, which has to sell for cash somewhere between 11 and 12 billion dollars in government securities during the present calendar year, to say nothing of refinancing the many billions of other previously issued securities which come due in the next 18 months?

When will the Congress realize that the Treasury Department's task is of transcendent importance to the American people and the future of the whole economy?

Spring Dance

By Truman Twill

Sociologists call it the great American ritual of car-washing, because they find in it the same elements of compulsion found in that other folkway—spring housecleaning.

It happens in the same way.

One day the merciless light of spring sunshine discloses all the drabness that winter has left behind—the grit and smear of endless days of struggle to keep the old bus going.

An impulse to empty an overflowing ashtray or a glove compartment too full to be closed is yielded to. A whisk broom found in the compartment is used to sweep out a peck of gravel and cinders.

One thing leads to another, just as it does in spring housecleaning.

Everything movable is dislodged in a relentless search for traces of winter. It is like excoriating the devil in primitive times.

At the climax of the ritual, someone chases down to the filling station and brings home a can of exterminator, guaranteed to erase the last vestiges of wear and tear and make the old seem new again.

The only way it differs from housecleaning is that the house cannot be taken where cleaning and excoriating would be convenient. It must be cleaned from the inside out where it stands.

This is the month when it all begins.

This is the time of pails and sponges and patent preparations to make the old and worn seem young and fresh again.

Once more it is the season for sprained sacroiliacs, torn fingernails, water blisters and cricks in the neck and shoulders.

Now is the time, if ever, to spill water where it will do the most damage, to fall backward off stepladders and to buy a can of paint and a brush to do a little touching up.

Rub up the bright-work and clean out the basement.

Take the litter out of the luggage compartment and look for dimes and quarters in the upholstering.

Pour on the elbow grease and deal with the charley horses as they appear.

Scrape off the old varnish and put on new.

Scrub the white-wall tires and the front-door knocker.

Get a permanent. Buy a new necktie.

Look at new furniture for the living room and a new car for the garage.

Make the old seem new. . .

Sociologists are not laying it on too heavy when they describe it as the great American ritual.

It is as indigenous as corn on the cob. It is as much a part of America as the eagle or the zinnia.

There finally comes a time to excoriate the winter devil and take the spring nymph for a ride in the car.

The time is now.

Empty the ashtrays. Dig off all the old wallpaper. Out with the old. In with the new! Until it's over there can be no peace.

Coffee Break

The people of Buenos Aires perfected the coffee break long before it developed in North America. Between sips, they have built the largest city in Latin America and the biggest anywhere south of the Equator.

The metropolis is crowded with coffee bars — long, horseshoe-shaped affairs with hundreds of tiny cups waiting invitingly around the rim.

A customer buys his ticket at the door — black coffee costs about two cents — drops it beside a cup and usually the waiter has it filled before the ticket hits the counter. The customer drinks standing. There are no stools.

People with more leisure may drink their coffee in a Buenos Aires cafe, but it's likely to be crowded. The population, which now numbers more than five million, has grown so fast the city is hard pressed to lodge its people. Housing is at a premium and young men contemplating marriage are jokingly advised: "First find an apartment; then look for the girl."

Proof Of An NATO Pudding

If you are old enough to remember the way Europe caved in under the pressure of German expansionism in World War I and World War II, you are old enough to appreciate what will be celebrated this week on the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NATO, whatever its faults and shortcomings, has lasted through 10 years of tenuous peace. If something like it had existed in 1938, when Hitler's bully-boys were in a position to blackmail their intended victims at Munich, World War II might have been averted. If something like it had existed in 1914 when Kaiser Wilhelm's Prussian sword-rattlers were itching to show what they could do, World War I might have been averted.

If World War III can be averted in the face of the Soviet Union's muscle-flexing, NATO must be given some of the credit.

The "shield against aggression," as President Truman called it in 1949, brought into being a common strategy to turn back any blow the Russian expansionists might strike in their quest for territory.

It brought even more than that into being —a common morality among the 12 Atlantic powers. Today, the morality looms as large as the military "shield." It is the basis for a pledge from the United States to its European allies that it will defend them against Communist domination even if the military organization of NATO fails to do what was originally intended. It is the basis for the foreign ministers' conference.

The organization never achieved its goal of upward of 100 divisions. It could not summon more than 21 divisions in a showdown against the Soviet Union's 175 divisions. But it could summon within its structure enough resistance to turn aside the kind of "blitz" that tempted Hitler to strike first and think afterward. Such as it is, there is a common defense force embracing troops, nuclear weapons and a jet-powered air force in what otherwise would have been a military vacuum.

Critics who tirelessly gnaw at NATO, like those who gnaw at the United Nations, are not wholly sincere, not even if they are named Charles de Gaulle, not even if they hold the presidency of France.

They are grateful in a fashion that they have this substantial realism as a target for their criticism. Otherwise, they would be the targets, themselves, of far more damaging criticism by other critics demanding to know what tangible counter-force they intended to throw against the menace of potential aggression.

European peace has been preserved. There has been no Soviet territorial aggression into Europe. Every Soviet move in Europe has been made with the expressed or implied aim of getting rid of NATO.

There could be no firmer tribute to its usefulness than the opposition of the nation whose policy of expansion outside its borders was the primary reason for NATO's creation.

Whiteleather Vs. The Bureaucracy

Minerva's Dr. Whiteleather has lost the appeal of his conviction by the federal government for overplanting his wheat quotas in 1954 and 1956.

This is apparently the end of his personal battle to preserve his freedom. The encroachment of the federal bureaucracy that has grown up under the laws to control agricultural production as the price for the payment of subsidies to agriculture has gone too far for him to stop it. In his case, fortunately, his livelihood is not at stake; he does not rely on agriculture for his income. But most farm owners do rely on it. Farming to them is not only a way of making a living but a way of living.

They have learned to their sorrow, if they valued their personal freedom, that they were expected to yield part of it for the subsidies they received under federal agricultural policy. But not all farmers have resented this. Federal agricultural policy is not under fire by the freedom-lovers as much as by agricultural interests that want more, not less, subsidies and the controls that go with subsidies.

They are dead-set against Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who sympathized with Dr. Whiteleather. He has been made their favorite whipping boy in politics. Many Democrats and Republicans in Congress blame him for his views on the importance of restoring independence to farmers through free marketing and systematic improvement of agricultural production.

Dr. Whiteleather, Secretary Benson and all who take their side in opposing creeping socialism in agriculture are a minority. The important thing about their position is, though, that they have had the courage to fight, even though they have not been able to win.

There are many losing battles that free men must fight, because that is the only way they can assert their love of freedom. Sometimes they win, but rarely. But even when they lose they leave behind them the record of their fight, and others who respect them for it take up the battle anew in their own time.

That is the way freedom has been won. That is the way it is preserved.

That is the way it has been lost, too.

If the Whiteleathers and Bensons are never to be vindicated—if the politicians and farmers who admire socialized agriculture continue to ride high—a key battle in America's never-ending war for freedom will have been lost.

An Exercise In Military Logic

It is too much to expect that the Eisenhower administration will get a consensus of either military or nonmilitary opinion on its decision to sidestep a long-range missle race with the Soviet Union.

But it is not too much to expect that generals and admirals who make public statements and the public whose opinion is supposed to be swayed by the militarists will try to understand what is involved in the discussion.

This is an exercise in military logic that is always difficult. There is no absolute guarantee that it will produce the desired result. But neither is there any absolute guarantee that it will be a failure.

The key to the logic is whether the desired result is maximum security for a fixed term or maximum security for an indefinite term.

If it is to be the Soviet Union's decision to stockpile large numbers of intercontinental-range missiles on the basis of prototypes already tested and found satisfactory, that will be an indication that Russian militarists are seeking maximum security for a fixed term.

At the end of the term, they will possess a great many missiles that will be obsolete, if the rule of technological advance that depreciates the value of military hardware stays in effect. If there is no war to use up missile inventory, the inventory must be written off and replaced with newer models.

Even if Russian missile designers are perfectly satisfied with the weapons they now are producing, they cannot bar the possibility of improvement. They, themselves, will be looking for improvement as avidly as the missile experts in all other countries.

U. S. missile experts are not satisfied that they have a perfect prototype. They are still looking for it among the assortment of missiles designed and tested by the armed services. In the meantime, while they continue to look for a prototype — a satisfactory working model — the short-term security of the country will be guaranteed by a weapons system already proved — the long-range Strategic Air Command, backed up by the other military resources of the country.

There will be no massive inventory of missiles to grow obsolete. The United States will depend, instead, on the ability to produce the best-designed weapons it has created, while seeking still better designs.

It will forego massive inventory of weapons in favor of flexibility of choice. It will avoid the mistake France made when it trusted its defense in the 1930s to a Maginot Line and the mistake Germany made when it based its military gamble on aerial attack that was turned back by British Spitfires that were not even in existence when World War II began.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Automation in public schools, the use of machines in teaching, is being demonstrated and urged by some top educators. Machines ask questions, register right or wrong answers and, when incorrect answers are given by kids, the machine comes through with supplemental instruction.

Little Willie isn't keen;
He got his lessons by machine;
He couldn't graduate, worse luck:
It seems that "teacher's" gears got stuck.

The reason's plain, so do not mask it;
Her "educator" blew a gasket.

If you can get a credit card good in hotels, rsstaurants, ocean liners, etc., why not in a dental chair?

Labor 'March' Furthers Feud

By Victor Riesel

There are angry labor leaders feuding behind the scenes, charging that some of their national chiefs have forced them to "pussyfoot" instead of parade during what originally was to be a "march on Washington."

Victor Riesel

The rueful ones who would parade tens of thousands through the Capital City streets on April 8 are the supporters of Walter Reuther. They are the ones hurling the "pussyfoot" charge at national labor chief George Meany. By the time the day of the demonstration is over, these two men may well be in the second round of the bout which began in February during the Puerto Rican session of AFL-CIO's high command.

Eager to avoid having tens of thousands of labor delegates romping through the streets, Meany had put a quota on the number of men each union can dispatch to the 5,500-seat National Guard Armory. Then he heard that Reuther's followers in the former CIO unions were asking other units if they needed help in filling their quotas.

REUTHER, for example, was anxious to put 10,000 men in the capital and its buildings that day. But the national office quota is one for every thousand members — WHICH GIVES Reuther exactly 43 in New Jersey, where tens of thousands, within a few hours of Washington, are unemployed. And the quota allows the entire Auto Union, with over 300,000 jobless, exactly 1,000 "delegates" to the protest - unemployment meeting.

Meany quickly dispatched word that there was not to be any filling by one union of another outfit's quota. He set up a strict credential system under a credential committee which would do credit to a national political nominating convention. The Armory that day will be carefully supervised. No one will get in without the card which has been issued through the national labor headquarters via the regional central labor councils.

FURTHERMORE, Meany and his national office colleagues have limited the areas from which delegates can be sent. This is roughly a 15-city northeast chunk of the nation reaching from Richmond, Va. up to Boston, over to Chicago and back again on a line weaving through Cincinnati.

But it would take a Perry Mason with an assist from Scotland Yard and the FBI to find any intention among the militants of the old CIO unions to take these orders. They're preparing to pour it on Washington.

The delegates already have lined up scores of special railroad, bus and even air transport. Typical is the 1,000 - delegate chartered train which will run from New York to Washington.

There will be one special bus caravan of 500 Auto Workers in addition to those who can pay for rail and plane trips. Hundreds of others are planning to make their way from other headquarters known as "The United Auto Workers Unemployed Workers Information and Service Centers."

There will be special trains from Chicago and other industrial centers. They're out for the old-fashioned demonstrations which the CIO featured when it hit the streets under John Lewis, Phil Murray and Sidney Hillman in the very early days. Those who can't jam their way into the Armory will be invited to auxiliary meetings.

TYPICAL OF THESE will be a mass demonstration and "austerity supper" in a local high school. This has been set by Jim Carey, leader of the International Union of Electrical Workers and an ally of Reuther's during the sulphurous civil war last February.

It was Carey's idea to run an "austerity supper" costing each diner a quarter or 30 cents — just about what the host union believes an unemployed worker on relief spends on a meal.

Obviously, after the speaking and parading and austerity dining are over, the feuding will begin. It isn't, of course, that Meany is less concerned over the jobless than Reuther. It's their tactics and personalities which clash.

Long after the demonstrators have rolled home in their caravans and their shouting has died down —the more subdued noises of the clash between Meany and Reuther will be heard through the land.

Dulles' Words Missed

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The absence of John Foster Dulles, ill with cancer, has left a vacuum in Washington. At this time of trouble with the Soviet Union he could have been making the most use of his special technique.

That technique was to hold news conferences where he could do a number of jobs at once: Get across American viewpoints, state foreign policy positions, float trial balloons, answer the Soviets, try to put them on the defensive.

Secretary of State Dulles held more news conferences than any other member of President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Undersecretary Christian A. Herter — the man who is taking Dulles' place—has not held a news conference since Dulles went to the hospital Feb. 9.

It is understandable that Herter should be reluctant to sound off. Although Dulles was in the hospital, Eisenhower consulted with him frequently and Herter could hardly try to run the show.

Eisenhower relied on Dulles in foreign affairs to an amazing degree, and delegated to him enormous power and responsibility, particularly as a spokesman.

Eisenhower's news conference were never the same as Dulles' if only because he lacked Dulles' detailed knowledge of events abroad. But he also lacked Dulles' training and skill in language.

Eisenhower, with Dulles no longer at his side, in recent weeks has asserted more leadership in foreign affairs than when Dulles was in there carrying the ball. The President has been increasingly forceful.

Anyone who ever attended a Dulles news conference could not but admit he was a master at using the precise phrase to get the exact effect he sought.

A great deal which could be said about the Berlin crisis is going unsaid because Dulles isn't there, Herter has held no news conferences and Eisenhower's news conferences provide about all the administration is saying on Berlin.

The recent conference here between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is a good example of how Dulles' presence on the scene is missed.

The British managed to pump out to correspondents—or to selected correspondents—the British viewpoint. The American viewpoint in the talks with Macmillan was much less publicized.

Dulles, if he had been around, would have taken care of that.

Ironically, it is possible the Soviets have agreed to a foreign ministers meeting on Berlin — preliminary to a summit meeting —because it seems unlikely Dulles could attend it.

Before the Soviets ever created the Berlin crisis they were calling on Eisenhower early in 1958 to meet them at the summit.

They had long correspondence with the President about it. But early in that letter-writing campaign the then Premier Bulganin made it plain the Soviets did not want a foreign ministers meeting with Dulles.

Bulganin didn't mention Dulles by name but even so he was almost insulting in the way he told Eisenhower that trying to do business with Dulles, from the Soviet viewpoint, was no good.

It was only in March — after Dulles' condition had been diagnosed as cancer and it seemed probable he would never return to his post — that the Soviets agreed to a foreign ministers meeting before holding a summit conference.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Two hundred seventy - five guests attended the Easter dance and card party under auspices of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America and the Columbian Squires.

The Royal Purple degree for a class of candidates from Tri-state encampment 354 of East End was exemplified by a degree team of East Liverpool Encampment 107.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — City Council prepared to approve formally an ordinance granting the Newell Bridge and Railway Co., the right to operate buses over certain streets in the city.

Representing a slash of $14,666 from the March figures, Columbiana County commissioners allocated $13,720 to subdivisions for relief needs during April.

Wilbur H. Nagel resigned as general secretary of the YMCA here.

TEN YEARS AGO — Nature played an April Fool's prank, hurling wintry weather at the Ohio Valley and other sections of the nation.

Arrests in East Liverpool during March totaled 124.

Frantic Financing

By David Lawrence

Inflation Policy Undermines Economy

There seems to be joy in some quarters that the budget is going to be unbalanced. Judging by some of the comments from Democrats on Capitol Hill, this proves that President Eisenhower was all wrong and that, since the budget is going to be unbalanced by more than a billion, it might as well be unbalanced by three or four or five billions.

David Lawrence

When Congress comes back from its recess, the drive to spend more and hence make the deficit bigger will take on momentum. It seems to be taken for granted that only the prestige of the President—not the pocketbook of the American people—is going to be hurt by the failure to reduce the deficits.

IT'S HARD for the average man to realize just what is involved in budget balancing and in the increases in Treasury deficits. At the National Press Club luncheon the other day for Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, this question was asked with reference to the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar from 100 cents in 1939 to 48 cents today:

"If I have only a 48-cent 'buck' in my pocket, haven't I got 48 cents more than I had in the depression?"

Dr. Saulnier replied that nobody now is much concerned with 1939 except historically and then added pointedly:

"I'd like to protect your 48 cents, you see, from now on."

This is a simple statement of a dilemma that faces the American people. Do they want to see the dollar decline still further in purchasing power so that the 48 cents they have today would before long be cut down to 24 cents?

THE DRAMA of money—the threat of printing-press currency—is not yet a subject of popular discussion. But among those whose business it is to deal in government securities—a man, for instance, like Aubrey G. Lanston of the New York firm which bears his name—the topic is very live. Mr. Lanston, speaking a few days ago before the Cleveland Society of Security analysts, said:

"I think it will become plain that the people of this country will have to make a choice, sometime over the near future, either by positive action or through default. They can force Congress to administer federal finances in a responsible way—something we have urged other so-called less advanced countries to do—or we will end up, first, with selective controls of a mushrooming character and, ultimately, with a chaotic breakdown in our economy. . . .

"The financial irresponsibility on the part of the government has created a series of deficits that have been financed by commercial banks. No matter what you have read to the contrary, that is the fact.

"Further, it seems inevitable that the commercial banks will be obliged to absorb whatever deficits develop from here on. It also seems likely that the increase in the government security holdings of commercial banks will enlarge by somewhat more than the amount of future deficits because the banks will be the only major buyers left. Therefore, the banks also will have to absorb whatever government securities are sold by others.

"This kind of frenzied public finance poses a serious threat. . . .

"We should recognize now that the number of spending measures that have been, or will be passed between now and the close of the 86th Congress, call for increased government spending for fiscal 1961 and for later years, too. The prospect of another deficit—for fiscal 1961—coming on top of a deficit the fiscal 1960 and all those that have preceded these, could produce some substantial, unstabilizing, psychological repercussions. The nonchalant, fiddling attitude of Congress—as a whole—toward a balanced budget for 1960 may be building a base for explosive developments later on."

THESE ARE significant words from one of those persons who normally speak in the most restrained phrases about government finances. Mr. Lanston's concluding advice to the public might well be pondered by those members of Congress and others who have been ridiculing the idea of a balanced budget. He said:

"Here is the way I look at the picture. I can see no point in investing in the lowest yielding credit of all—U.S. Treasury securities—at long-term in a background wherein the purchasing power of the dollar has been depreciating and seems likely to continue to depreciate. . . . Therefore, the best buys in government securities are those that are short in term."

But what is this going to do to the Treasury, which has to sell for cash somewhere between 11 and 12 billion dollars in government securities during the present calendar year, to say nothing of refinancing the many billions of other previously issued securities which come due in the next 18 months?

When will the Congress realize that the Treasury Department's task is of transcendent importance to the American people and the future of the whole economy?

Spring Dance

By Truman Twill

Sociologists call it the great American ritual of car-washing, because they find in it the same elements of compulsion found in that other folkway—spring housecleaning.

It happens in the same way.

One day the merciless light of spring sunshine discloses all the drabness that winter has left behind—the grit and smear of endless days of struggle to keep the old bus going.

An impulse to empty an overflowing ashtray or a glove compartment too full to be closed is yielded to. A whisk broom found in the compartment is used to sweep out a peck of gravel and cinders.

One thing leads to another, just as it does in spring housecleaning.

Everything movable is dislodged in a relentless search for traces of winter. It is like excoriating the devil in primitive times.

At the climax of the ritual, someone chases down to the filling station and brings home a can of exterminator, guaranteed to erase the last vestiges of wear and tear and make the old seem new again.

The only way it differs from housecleaning is that the house cannot be taken where cleaning and excoriating would be convenient. It must be cleaned from the inside out where it stands.

This is the month when it all begins.

This is the time of pails and sponges and patent preparations to make the old and worn seem young and fresh again.

Once more it is the season for sprained sacroiliacs, torn fingernails, water blisters and cricks in the neck and shoulders.

Now is the time, if ever, to spill water where it will do the most damage, to fall backward off stepladders and to buy a can of paint and a brush to do a little touching up.

Rub up the bright-work and clean out the basement.

Take the litter out of the luggage compartment and look for dimes and quarters in the upholstering.

Pour on the elbow grease and deal with the charley horses as they appear.

Scrape off the old varnish and put on new.

Scrub the white-wall tires and the front-door knocker.

Get a permanent. Buy a new necktie.

Look at new furniture for the living room and a new car for the garage.

Make the old seem new. . .

Sociologists are not laying it on too heavy when they describe it as the great American ritual.

It is as indigenous as corn on the cob. It is as much a part of America as the eagle or the zinnia.

There finally comes a time to excoriate the winter devil and take the spring nymph for a ride in the car.

The time is now.

Empty the ashtrays. Dig off all the old wallpaper. Out with the old. In with the new! Until it's over there can be no peace.

Coffee Break

The people of Buenos Aires perfected the coffee break long before it developed in North America. Between sips, they have built the largest city in Latin America and the biggest anywhere south of the Equator.

The metropolis is crowded with coffee bars — long, horseshoe-shaped affairs with hundreds of tiny cups waiting invitingly around the rim.

A customer buys his ticket at the door — black coffee costs about two cents — drops it beside a cup and usually the waiter has it filled before the ticket hits the counter. The customer drinks standing. There are no stools.

People with more leisure may drink their coffee in a Buenos Aires cafe, but it's likely to be crowded. The population, which now numbers more than five million, has grown so fast the city is hard pressed to lodge its people. Housing is at a premium and young men contemplating marriage are jokingly advised: "First find an apartment; then look for the girl."

Official Of Motor Club Speaks On Services For Motorists

Ever find yourself in need of emergency road service, information on road conditions throughout the state, or wish to make airline connections without driving to a distant airport?

Some 8,400 motorists, who are members of the Columbiana County Motor Club, affiliated with the American Automobile Association, daily benefit by these free services, Judson English, director of sales and service, told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

The club spent $3,800 in January and February through the office in East Liverpool to aid motorists stranded by snow or the freezing weather.

Besides the advantages of membership, other activities are aimed at reducing traffic accidents by sponsoring driver education courses in high schools, supplying safety posters to schools, and organizing and equiping school crossing guards, English said.

Emergency road service is only one phase, with others including personal auto accident insurance, free notary service and available information for traveling both in the U. S. and 60 foreign countries which have affiliated offices, he said.

English said emergency road service includes tire changes, towing and wrecker service and gasoline delivery and starting of motors. Members have only to call the nearest AAA garage, or pay for the service and present the bill to the AAA office if no affiliated garage is available.

Travel service includes road maps, reservations for lodgings and restaurants, and reports of highway conditions throughout the state, received twice daily by a teletype in the Salem office.

Highway field reporters for the national organization drive 600,000 miles a year inspecting roads and selecting hotels and motor courts for recommendation, English said.

The travel department also offers information on car rental in foreign countries and secures airline tickets for countries around the globe.

On another level, the AAA supplies hats, raincoats and other equipment for school crossing guards, and sponsors a tour to Washington for the youngsters.

English was introduced by Dean Wilhelm, president.

Two new members—Frank C. Dawson and John Duffy—were indoctrinated by Wilhelm and presented Rotary lapel pins.

Marvin Kinsey called attention to a Rotary District Conference scheduled May 1-3 in Canton. Those planning to attend are to contact him, he announced. A Board of Directors' meeting followed.

Alcorn, GOP Chairman, Set To Quit Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meade Alcorn was reported today to be planning to resign as Republican national chairman—a position he has held since January 1957.

Alcorn declined comment. He told a reporter early today he wasn't prepared to say anything at the moment. He indicated he might have something to say later.

Alcorn was contacted after the Hartford (Conn) Courant reported that he will resign shortly, possibly today.

This was backed up by Eisenhower administration informants who said announcement of the resignation is expected today.

Both the administration sources and the Courant said Alcorn wants to return to his Hartford law practice. The Courant indicated that Alcorn, now 51, might try for the Connecticut governorship in 1962

There was no immediate indication who might be named his successor as Republican chairman. The Courant said Alcorn will stay on the job a short time to give the GOP National Committee a chance to pick a replacement.

This choice could be made next week when the committee meets here to select a site and date for the 1960 Republican national convention and act on proposals to reorganize the party's machinery

(The New York Times today quoted highly placed political sources as saying Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky) would most likely be Alborn's successor. A Washington dispatch to the Times described Morton as a "middle-ground Republican who claims neither the liberal nor conservative label."

(Morton, 51, is in the third year of his six-year Senate term.

(He served three terms in the House as a representative from Louisville, his home city, from 1947 to 1953. He retired from the House in that year and became assistant secretary of state for congressional relations. In that capacity he functioned as the State Department's contact man.

Alcorn, an energetic worker and campaigner, launched an extensive party rebuilding program in January in the wake of heavy GOP losses in last falls' congressional elections.

There were reports shortly after the elections that Alcorn intended to resign but he insisted he intended to stay on. However, it was reported that Alcorn has informed President Eisenhower that he intended to quit for personal reasons.

Scholarship Given At Dinner Of Future Farmers Chapter

A Future Farmers of America camp scholarship was presented to Jim Trotter of Calcutta at the annual Beaver Local FFA banquet attended by 120 Tuesday night at the high school near Williamsport.

The scholarship was given Trotter, president of the FFA unit, by Fred Andreatta of the Glenmoor Tractor Sales.

Honorary chapter farmer degrees were presented by the FFA unit to County Supt. James McBride, Andreatta and Willie Strader, faculty advisor for the club.

Earl Bardall of Freeport, northeast sectional vice president of the Ohio FFA, was guest speaker. George VanHorne, Beaver Local executive head, spoke as a past honorary chapter farmer.

Trotter, who was toastmaster, and William (Bud) Wilson were recognized for winning honors at an FFA public speakng event at Carrollton last week. Wilson repeated his talk, "Planning the Farm Business."

The welcome was given by Wayne Hickman, and reviews of the farm program were given by Wilson and Terry Milhoan. Billy Williams listed FFA accomplishments, and Jim McCaskey presented the FFA creed.

Remarks were made by Lee Kirkland, principal.

A girls' trio, Beverly Rudibaugh, Vickie Windle and Debbie Ashbaugh, sang.

Boy Falls To Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—Returning from a fishing expedition, 11-year-old Michael Rogaski fell to his death Tuesday while climbing a 150-foot embankment in Independence. The boy's companions said they had been climbing the embankment with the aid of a rope tied to a tree at the top. They said Michael let go when a stump broke loose a few feet above and began to roll toward him. He fell more than 70 feet.

needs and future requirements," he added. The poll of the members was authorized by the Board of Trustees.

Here are typical comments the Chamber members made on the tax plan:

"It's the difference between progress and decadence;" "a good investment for the future;" "we must help the community progress in spite of itself;" "another step in the right direction;" "it seems to be the only answer;" "the most equitable form of taxation devised to date;" "no one has come up with a better way to do the job."

A great number of the Chamber members commented that the tax is "the fairest way" of raising new revenue. Some limited their comment to one or two words, like "Absolutely." Another appended the remark: "Just drive out St. Clair Ave. sometime!"

"By all means," one member commented. Another called the tax "the only way out" and still another wrote: "We must have it."

Here are some more of the individual comments: "There has to be more income for the city;" "if you want prosperity, you must pay for it;" "the present administration can handle money;" "all the money raised will be used locally;" "the city income tax is the best solution for the welfare of the city" and "the streets in this community are a disgrace."

day afternoon and fell to 42 at midnight, then to 40 by 6 a. m. when the fog appeared to be thickest.

River traffic continued, however, as virtually all boats are equipped with radar and the wickets of the dams are down, leaving the river open and dispensing with the need of lockages. District dams have been down since Friday when rains raised the river above pool level.

The same temperature ranges are predicted for the next 24 hours but showers and thunderstorms due this afternoon and tonight should prevent another night of fog.

The day's high will be 60 to 65 and tonight's low 40 to 45. Thursday will be cooler with showers ending in the forenoon.

It was at one time thought that greens and blues were the most restful colors to the eyes. However, as further studies were made, this idea did not hold up. Most people throughout the world now find that pastel shades are more restful to their eyes than bold and startling colors.

Backs Governor's Proposal

Crouch Pushes Changes In Liquor Control Setup

By Our Own Correspondent

COLUMBUS — State Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch has appealed to the 103rd General Assembly to completely revise the present liquor control setup.

Crouch testified before a House committee in favor of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's proposal that the present board of liquor control be stripped of all administrative functions and converted to a board of review.

The complete authority for operation of the state's 250-million dollar liquor industry would then rest in the hands of the director, a cabinet officer appointed by and responsible only to the governor.

THE MEASURE is part of DiSalle's campaign to give the executive branch of Ohio government more administrative control in areas where it is responsible for policy.

"The governor and his administration are held accountable for the proper operation of the department," Crouch told the liquor control committee. "But many powers are held by the board, which is not a part of the department.

"The board's actions often run counter to administration policy, he added. "But we have many letters to attest to the fact that the public does not distinguish between the board and the department.

"This bill would fix the responsibility for administrative policy where it belongs, but would provide for appeals from the director's decisions."

Crouch added that the bill would require that the chairman of the revew board be a lawyer because of its judicial function. The salaries of board members would be increased from $6,000 to $12,000 and the chairman's pay would be boosted from $6,500 to $12,500 a year.

—:—

THE COMMITTEE recommended for passage three other measures to:

Permit liquor permitholders to pay fines instead of taking suspensions.

Exempt brewers from paying transport fees on their own products.

Restrict the sale of Bock beer to between March 17 and June 30.

The Senate Judiciary Committee concluded hearings on two bills to require motorists suspected of intoxication to submit to tests to determine how much alchol they had in their blood.

The group delayed action on the measures, however, amid indications that their chances might be dim. Although no opponents to the bills appeared, the members of the committee repeatedly questioned the constitutionality of the proposals.

Basic objection was that the bills would deprive an individual of his right to refuse to testify against himself. They drew a parallel between forcing a drunk-driving suspect to submit to blood tests and forcing a murder suspect to submit to a lie detector test.

Playlot Group Picks Officers

Howard Tullis of Michigan Ave. was named president during election of officers held Tuesday night by the Recreation Council at the high school.

Tullis succeeds Fred Fryman of LaCroft. Others named were Don Burbick, vice president; Mrs. Winston Myers, secretary, and Marion M. Horger, treasurer. Mrs. Myers and Horger were re-elected.

An auditing committee named by Tullis includes Nathan Lorah, chairman, Fryman and James Moss.

Merrill Hall reported on the ice skating the past winter at Columbian Park. Firemen kept the pond clean, he said. He also reported on the use of tennis courts at the home of Malcom Thompson of Park Blvd.

It was announced any Parent-Teacher Association desiring to sponsor a playground this summer should contact either Hall or Mrs. Myers to obtain a supervisor.

A playground director will be named at the next meeting April 21 at 7:30 at the school. Hall has held the post for 14 years.

Police Arrest Trucker On Hot-Rod Charges

A 40-year-old Pennsylvanian was arrested early today by East Liverpool police on a charge of driving a big tractor-trailer in hot-rod style along Dresden Ave. near Webber Way.

Charles S. Mituzas of Washington is scheduled for a hearing later in Municipal Court on a reckless driving charge. Because his truck was loaded with perishables, he was allowed to continue on a promise his concern would post a $31 bond for his hearing.

Police said Mituzas "drove at a high rate of speed and passed another truck and a car at the intersection of Webber Way and Dresden Ave." He was halted at 1:03 on Market St.

Director Asks Offers For Old Police Cruiser

The city will accept informal written bids until Wednesday, April 8, for sale of a 1954 Chevrolet four-door sedan formerly used as a police cruiser, Safety - Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

Bids should be addressed to the director's office. The vehicle may be inspected at the police garage at the rear of City Hall, the director added. Purchasers will be required to remove all police identification within 24 hours if the vehicle is to be titled for continued use.

Bids are being sought informally because state law requires formal authorization by Council and action by the Board of Control only in cases where the property involved has a value of $1,000 or more, the director said.

Girl Forfeits Bond

LISBON — Helen Cook, 18, of Hubbard forfeited $25 bond Tuesday in Mayor John Todd's court when she failed to appear on a charge of driving without an operator's license. She was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

COLUMBUS — State Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch has appealed to the 103rd General Assembly to completely revise the present liquor control setup.

Crouch testified before a House committee in favor of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's proposal that the present board of liquor control be stripped of all administrative functions and converted to a board of review.

The complete authority for operation of the state's 250-million dollar liquor industry would then rest in the hands of the director, a cabinet officer appointed by and responsible only to the governor.

THE MEASURE is part of DiSalle's campaign to give the executive branch of Ohio government more administrative control in areas where it is responsible for policy.

"The governor and his administration are held accountable for the proper operation of the department," Crouch told the liquor control committee. "But many powers are held by the board, which is not a part of the department.

"The board's actions often run counter to administration policy, he added. "But we have many letters to attest to the fact that the public does not distinguish between the board and the department.

"This bill would fix the responsibility for administrative policy where it belongs, but would provide for appeals from the director's decisions."

Crouch added that the bill would require that the chairman of the revew board be a lawyer because of its judicial function. The salaries of board members would be increased from $6,000 to $12,000 and the chairman's pay would be boosted from $6,500 to $12,500 a year.

—:—

THE COMMITTEE recommended for passage three other measures to:

Permit liquor permitholders to pay fines instead of taking suspensions.

Exempt brewers from paying transport fees on their own products.

Restrict the sale of Bock beer to between March 17 and June 30.

The Senate Judiciary Committee concluded hearings on two bills to require motorists suspected of intoxication to submit to tests to determine how much alchol they had in their blood.

The group delayed action on the measures, however, amid indications that their chances might be dim. Although no opponents to the bills appeared, the members of the committee repeatedly questioned the constitutionality of the proposals.

Basic objection was that the bills would deprive an individual of his right to refuse to testify against himself. They drew a parallel between forcing a drunk-driving suspect to submit to blood tests and forcing a murder suspect to submit to a lie detector test.

Chester Boy Unhurt When Struck By Car

An 8-year-old Chester boy escaped injury when knocked to the street by an auto near the Chester Central School early Tuesday afternoon.

Wayne Seeevers, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Seevers of Montana Ave., ran in front of the car of Larry Logston of 3rd St. Ext., who was driving slowly south on 3rd St. near the school playground, witnesses said.

School boy patrols at the nearby corner said the youth dashed in front of the car. The driver stopped the car, checked the boy for injuries and offered to take him to a physician. The youth said he was unhurt. Police were later advised and the boy was examined after school by a doctor.

Auto Club Activities Discussed At Kiwanis

A discussion of the services and purposes of the American Automobile Association was presented at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night by Judson English, director of sales and services of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Playlot Group Picks Officers

Howard Tullis of Michigan Ave. was named president during election of officers held Tuesday night by the Recreation Council at the high school.

Tullis succeeds Fred Fryman of LaCroft. Others named were Don Burbick, vice president; Mrs. Winston Myers, secretary, and Marion M. Horger, treasurer. Mrs. Myers and Horger were re-elected.

An auditing committee named by Tullis includes Nathan Lorah, chairman, Fryman and James Moss.

The budget for the year was discussed. Money to be received from the Community Fund has been cut because the goal was not reached.

Merrill Hall reported on the ice skating the past winter at Columbian Park. Firemen kept the pond clean, he said. He also reported on the use of tennis courts at the home of Malcom Thompson of Park Blvd.

It was announced any Parent-Teacher Association desiring to sponsor a playground this summer should contact either Hall or Mrs. Myers to obtain a supervisor.

A playground director will be named at the next meeting April 21 at 7:30 at the school. Hall has held the post for 14 years.

Police Arrest Trucker On Hot-Rod Charges

A 40-year-old Pennsylvanian was arrested early today by East Liverpool police on a charge of driving a big tractor-trailer in hot-rod style along Dresden Ave. near Webber Way.

Charles S. Mituzas of Washington is scheduled for a hearing later in Municipal Court on a reckless driving charge. Because his truck was loaded with perishables, he was allowed to continue on a promise his concern would post a $31 bond for his hearing.

Police said Mituzas "drove at a high rate of speed and passed another truck and a car at the intersection of Webber Way and Dresden Ave." He was halted at 1:03 on Market St.

Director Asks Offers For Old Police Cruiser

The city will accept informal written bids until Wednesday, April 8, for sale of a 1954 Chevrolet four-door sedan formerly used as a police cruiser, Safety - Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

Bids should be addressed to the director's office. The vehicle may be inspected at the police garage at the rear of City Hall, the director added. Purchasers will be required to remove all police identification within 24 hours if the vehicle is to be titled for continued use.

Bids are being sought informally because state law requires formal authorization by Council and action by the Board of Control only in cases where the property involved has a value of $1,000 or more, the director said.

Girl Forfeits Bond

LISBON — Helen Cook, 18, of Hubbard forfeited $25 bond Tuesday in Mayor John Todd's court when she failed to appear on a charge of driving without an operator's license. She was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

The Gila Indian cliff dwellings in southwestern New Mexico are caves built more than 600 years ago. Walls are so well preserved that finger prints of original builders on interior walls can be seen clearly today.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm a mature girl 19, and hold a responsible position with an accounting firm. My mother is only 36 and has been a widow for seven years. She's lively and attractive and people frequently take us for sisters.

About six months ago she started to date a divorced man. He is 30 years old, successful in business and very good-looking. I was shocked when I first met him because I felt he was too young for Mother. But I said nothing because she was crazy about him and she hoped it would lead to marriage.

The three of us had a lot of fun together—until last week. He asked me to meet him for lunch and requested I say nothing to Mother. I knew something was wrong. To put it bluntly, he's in love with ME, not her.

He swears he never meant it to be this way and I believe him. He's really a very decent guy.

I have no romantic interest in him whatever. In fact, I have a boy friend in the Navy. Do you think I owe it to my mother to tell her? I'm afraid it may break her heart. Yet maybe she ought to know.—JASMINE.

-:-

Dear Jasmine: Say nothing. When her dream world collapses it will be tough enough without this additional barb. Spare her the humiliation.

No Chaperon Needed

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widower 87 although I do not look my age. I have a first cousin who is a widow, age 65. We've always gotten along famously. She lives in a nearby city and I would like to invite her to visit me.

Would it be proper to ask her to stay in my home? We are both people of excellent reputation and I don't want to start any gossip.

I have a housekeeper but she doesn't stay overnight. Thank you. —OLD TIMER.

Dear Old Timer: In my opinion, it would be perfectly proper for a man 87 years old (who doesn't look his age) to invite his cousin to visit in his home. You'll both be perfectly safe without a chaperon.

Take It To Lawyer

Dear Ann: I've been divorced three years and have two children. The court awarded me custody of the children.

Last year the boy became hard to handle. Whenever I tried to correct him he'd run to his grandparents and tell them I was mistreating him. Then he would phone his father. I couldn't take this sort of thing so I finally let his father have him.

My ex-husband has remarried and my son doesn't like the new wife. I miss my boy terribly and wish I hadn't let him go. Do you think I should take the matter to court and try to get him back?

He hurt me so when he left me for his father that our relations are strained now. When I see him on Sunday for a few minutes I don't know what to say. Please give me some advice. I need it.—Y.L.R.

Dear Y.L.R.: This is not a matter for me to decide. Discuss this with your attorney and set up some meetings. First talk with your son and ask what he would prefer. Perhaps he'd rather be with you now. He may be "easier to handle" knowing the alternative is living in the home of a foster mother whom he doesn't like.

Then discuss it with your ex-husband. He may feel the boy is better off with you under the circumstances. Your attorney should be in on all the discussions because he'll be able to make an unemotional evaluation based on what he sees and hears.

Confidential

TO CONCERNED: Why should you be? These two sound as if they deserve each other. And they'll make an ideal couple. She has a heart of stone and he's a chiseler.

-:-

TO CORKY: He loses. The picture is me. It is recent. I will be 41 in July. . . . (and thank you, Doll.)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Decline Noted For Building During March

Despite the imminent arrival of good building weather, new construction and remodeling in East Liverpool fell off slightly in March, compared with February.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's office issued 8 building permits last month, authorizing work estimated to cost a total of $17,400. Last month's permits were down $2,870 from the $20,270 shown in February.

Virtually no new construction was provided for in last month's permits. They call for remodeling or erection of additions on both business and residential property.

The March total brings to $40,170 the overall amount of construction work authorized in the first quarter of 1959.

The March permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job follows:

M. D. Bair, to make repairs to a house and erect a new garage at 913 Bradshaw Ave., $3,200.

Patterson Dry Cleaning Co., to remodel its building at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., $400.

Celli Music Center, to remodel a building at 625 St. Clair Ave., $2,000.

John C. Bowyer, to erect a double garage on Huston Ave., $1,000.

Paul Haught, to build a garage and a breezeway on a home at Williams Ave. and Surrey Rd., $2,500.

Golden Star Dairy Co., to remodel a storeroom at 5th and Market Sts., $7,500.

Chester Parsons, to erect a carport on a home at 1549 Lisbon St., $300.

Nentwick Rest Home, to remodel a porch on its premises on Lisbon St., $500.

One teardown permit also was issued last month. O. B. McKenzie obtained a permit to raze a four-room home at 216 Cherry Alley.

Union Official Bound Over On Assault Count

CINCINNATI (AP)—Otto Frobe, longtime secretary-treasurer of powerful Teamsters Local 100 here, was bound to the grand jury under $500 bond Tuesday on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

Mrs. Evelyn Angelo filed the warrant against Frobe.

Union spokesman said Frobe had fired Mrs. Angelo's husband, Donald, as a union hall janitor last month.

Radar Systems Still Being Tested

DETROIT (AP) — Application of full - scale radar systems to the conventional automobile still appears to be in the remote future.

Automotive industry experts and independent physicists have long been working on systems that would operate as warning devices to motorists in hazardous traffic or in fog. Several such systems have been tested by the automakers, but none yet has been announced as an unqualified success.

Systems have been developed for operating cars without drivers and for controlling cars from a tower located at a central point in a simulated highway of tomorrow demonstration.

BUT THE system that will warn the driver of a conventional type car that he is approaching a possible collision has not yet passed the requirements of the industry.

The systems so far developed for control by remote supervision have been limited to use in purely experimental models like General Motors' Firebird III, shown publicly this year at the Motorama in New York and Boston.

In some of the independently developed systems an antenna is placed in the car grille. It issues a "beep-beep" sound as the vehicle so equipped approaches another car or dangerous object. The sound becomes louder and more insistent as the unseen object gets closer.

The engineers have established that such systems can be built.

One objection has been that they pick up signals from varying types of obstacles that are part of normal street or highway installations, including some that are permanent off - the - road fixtures and others that are too small to be dangerous.

Roy C. Haeusler, Chrysler Corp. automotive safety engineer, describing a series of simulated radar - controlled driving tests conducted on Detroit streets, said:

"It became clear that the complexity of the traffic problem and the assorted human responses would indefinitely postpone the development of an entirely automatic brake control system."

"AS THE car was about to enter a curve and before the driver started to turn the wheel," he continued, "the 'radar' would 'see' objects alongside the curve such as mail boxes, houses or approaching cars. It could not anticipate that the driver would turn the wheel and stay in his proper lane so the 'radar' applied the brakes.

"If another car traveling in the same direction cut in front of the 'radar-equipped' car the automatic control would apply the brakes regardless of the fact a third car might be close behind. Narrowing the beam so it would not apply brakes for cars parked at the curb was one of the greatest limitations."

Average Car Has Life Span Of 12 Years

DETROIT (AP) — More than 20 million automobiles currently in use are more than five years old.

If the records of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. are accurate, they still are several years from the junk pile.

The industry's calculators figure that the average life of junked cars is about 12 years and that the average mileage on such vehicles runs up to 110,000 miles.

But even at this increased life span of an average automobile about four million cars are scrapped each year. Moreover, the number has increased each year during the last decade.

Only in years of lagging sales does the total of scrapped cars decline.

For all practical purposes, the four million cars scrapped each year represent the sum of the industry's annual replacement market.

To this total the experts add about two million cars purchased by first-time buyers to get a year's normal new car market.

There is no limit as to how many times a senator may be re-elected.

Local Unions Smooth Split

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Union officials say they've smoothed over a split that developed between two striking locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. One had voted, in effect, to return to work at Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.; the other rejected the idea.

James S. Knight, international IBEW representative, said the breach was healed during membership meetings of Locals 832 and 1466.

Local 832, with about 400 members in southern Ohio, voted Sunday to accept the company's offer of a 4½ per cent general wage increase. Local 1466, with about 900 members in central Ohio, turned down the offer.

Both locals have been striking since Feb. 28.

During Tuesday's meeting "to try to get the members lined up . . . the southern district men said they will support any effort of 1466 and not return to work," Knight reported.

The union had been holding out for a 5 per cent general wage increase.

Spokesmen for both locals indicated willingness to accept a wage settlement reportedly reached Tuesday by other IBEW units with the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

William Hamler, business agent for Local 1466, said that wage offer was well above the one offered by C & SOE. It provides linemen with an additional 5½ cents, making their total increase 19½ cents, 3½ cents an hour better than C & SOE's offer to linemen.

C & SOE has been using supervisory personnel to keep power flowing to customers in 23 central and southern Ohio counties during the strike.

4 Dens Present Skits At Cub Pack Meeting

Skits on "Canada" were presented by 4 dens when Cub Pack 74 met Monday night in the LaCroft School.

Austen Moore, cubmaster, was in charge and awards were presented. Paul Jones received a bobcat badge, Tommy Deem a silver arrow and Fred Lightfoot, a den chief's cord.

Registration cards for both adults and boys were presented by Don Derrington, committee chairman, and Fred Hilditch, assistant cubmaster. Correspondence was read about "Twin Spruce," a summer camp.

A round-table meeting was set April 8 and a planning meeting will be held April 20 in the home of Mrs. Mary Rudibaugh of Boring Ln. The next pack meeting is April 27 in the school.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Col. Earle B. Butler assumed duties as Buffalo district engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers today.

Butler succeeds Col. Loren W. Olmstead who is retiring.

The Buffalo district extends from Sandusky, Ohio, to the international boundary line on the St. Lawrence River.

Perhaps Sleeping Viruses

Ancestor May Have Passed Cancer, Researcher Says

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The seeds of cancer may lurk in your body—an unwanted gift planted perhaps as long as 100,000 years ago in the cells of an ancestor.

Only a few such seeds among the trillions of cells of your body could start deadly, uncontrolled cancer.

As these seeds—perhaps sleeping viruses—were passed on generation to generation they may have awakened from time to time, bringing a sudden and unexpected cancer attack.

This is a theory expressed at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress by Dr. Ludwik Gross cancer unit chief of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bronx N.Y.

These sleeping viruses somehow hitchhike a ride through the centuries with the genes of the cell—getting passed along with inherited factors from one generation to the next, Dr. Gross suggested.

What awakens the deadly virus?

Radiation—the chance hit of an atomic ray — might provide the trigger. Or some chemical poison unrecognized as dangerous might do the trick.

Dr. Gross has succeeded in following inherited leukemia through only a few generations of mice.

But he feels the theory explains why cancer seems to strike so often within certain families.

Describing his work on mouse leukemia, Dr. Gross told of a mystery gland and the strange role it plays in cancer of the blood and blood producing areas of the body.

The mystery gland is the thymus. In humans this little gland in the chest seems to have no function after birth.

But in mice stricken with leukemia, removal of the thymus means survival. Some mice were intentionally infected with leukemia and then operated on for removal of the thymus. They never developed the disease.

It is possible that the thymus is the target of the leukemia-causing virus, Dr. Gross said. The thymus may be the nest where the virus multiplies.

Mute's Demonstration Works In His Defense

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry Barringer, 57, a deaf-mute, couldn't say anything in his defense in Police Court Tuesday, but he gave a demonstration. It worked.

Barringer, a sign painter, up before Judge R. E. Shannon on a drunk charge, handed the judge a note which said:

"To the judge: I have been stayed sober about 80 days. I must work painting signs. Can I have probation? I must stay sober again."

Then he extended his arm, pointing his index finger directly at the judge and balanced a pencil on the finger without a quiver.

"You won your case," the judge said. "Costs remitted."

Gen. Eddleman Takes Over Europe Command

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —Gen. C. D. Eddleman took over today as commander in chief of the U.S. Army in Europe and as commander of the North Atlantic Alliance's central army group.

He was promoted to four-star general at the same time. He succeeded Gen. H. I. Hodes, who retired Tuesday after 39 years of army service.

NATO Weakness Lack Of Unity, Spaak Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — NATO's Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak says the real weakness of the Atlantic Alliance is a lack of unity among its 15 sovereign members.

Spaak cited as one example France's atomic work, on which he said France is spending billions of francs to find information its allies already know.

Spaak expressed his views in an article in the current issue of the magazine Foreign Affairs. A three-time prime minister of Belgium, Spaak moved to the top NATO staff job in 1957. He is due in Washington today for the Atlantic Pact organization's 10th anniversary meeting.

Spaak called NATO a flourishing organization which he credited with halting Soviet expansion in Europe. However, he said, "common-sense solutions seem to be running head on into stubborn forces of nationalism and individualism within the alliance."

2 Boys Playing With Matches Start Blaze

Two 10-year-old boys started a grass fire on John St. Tuesday afternoon at 4:32, city firemen said.

Chief Charles Bryan said the boys were playing with matches.

The parents and the boys were ordered to appear before Bryan Saturday for a lecture.

A false alarm at a box on the corner of the Review building was answered at 4:29 p. m. Some boys had turned in the alarm, firemen said. Firemen were still on the false alarm when the call on the grass fire was received.

The opening of the Erie Canal in 1825 did much to promote the commerce and other industrial attractions of Albany, N.Y.

Local Unions Smooth Split

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Union officials say they've smoothed over a split that developed between two striking locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. One had voted, in effect, to return to work at Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.; the other rejected the idea.

James S. Knight, international IBEW representative, said the breach was healed during membership meetings of Locals 832 and 1466.

Local 832, with about 400 members in southern Ohio, voted Sunday to accept the company's offer of a 4½ per cent general wage increase. Local 1466, with about 900 members in central Ohio, turned down the offer.

Both locals have been striking since Feb. 28.

During Tuesday's meeting "to try to get the members lined up . . . the southern district men said they will support any effort of 1466 and not return to work," Knight reported.

The union had been holding out for a 5 per cent general wage increase.

Spokesmen for both locals indicated willingness to accept a wage settlement reportedly reached Tuesday by other IBEW units with the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

William Hamler, business agent for Local 1466, said that wage offer was well above the one offered by C & SOE. It provides linemen with an additional 5½ cents, making their total increase 19½ cents, 3½ cents an hour better than C & SOE's offer to linemen.

C & SOE has been using supervisory personnel to keep power flowing to customers in 23 central and southern Ohio counties during the strike.

Perhaps Sleeping Viruses

Ancestor May Have Passed Cancer, Researcher Says

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The seeds of cancer may lurk in your body—an unwanted gift planted perhaps as long as 100,000 years ago in the cells of an ancestor.

Only a few such seeds among the trillions of cells of your body could start deadly, uncontrolled cancer.

As these seeds—perhaps sleeping viruses—were passed on generation to generation they may have awakened from time to time, bringing a sudden and unexpected cancer attack.

This is a theory expressed at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress by Dr. Ludwik Gross cancer unit chief of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bronx N.Y.

These sleeping viruses somehow hitchhike a ride through the centuries with the genes of the cell—getting passed along with inherited factors from one generation to the next, Dr. Gross suggested.

What awakens the deadly virus?

Radiation—the chance hit of an atomic ray — might provide the trigger. Or some chemical polson unrecognized as dangerous might do the trick.

Dr. Gross has succeeded in following inherited leukemia through only a few generations of mice.

But he feels the theory explains why cancer seems to strike so often within certain families.

Describing his work on mouse leukemia, Dr. Gross told of a mystery gland and the strange role it plays in cancer of the blood and blood producing areas of the body.

The mystery gland is the thymus. In humans this little gland in the chest seems to have no function after birth.

But in mice stricken with leukemia, removal of the thymus means survival. Some mice were intentionally infected with leukemia and then operated on for removal of the thymus. They never developed the disease.

It is possible that the thymus is the target of the leukemia-causing virus, Dr. Gross said. The thymus may be the nest where the virus multiplies.

Mute's Demonstration Works In His Defense

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry Barringer, 57, a deaf-mute, couldn't say anything in his defense in Police Court Tuesday, but he gave a demonstration. It worked.

Barringer, a sign painter, up before Judge R. E. Shannon on a drunk charge, handed the judge a note which said:

"To the judge: I have been stayed sober about 80 days. I must work painting signs. Can I have probation? I must stay sober again."

Then he extended his arm, pointing his index finger directly at the judge and balanced a pencil on the finger without a quiver.

"You won your case," the judge said. "Costs remitted."

Gen. Eddleman Takes Over Europe Command

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —Gen. C. D. Eddleman took over today as commander in chief of the U.S. Army in Europe and as commander of the North Atlantic Alliance's central army group.

He was promoted to four-star general at the same time. He succeeded Gen. H. I. Hodes, who retired Tuesday after 39 years of army service.

NATO Weakness Lack Of Unity, Spaak Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — NATO's Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak says the real weakness of the Atlantic Alliance is a lack of unity among its 15 sovereign members.

Spaak cited as one example France's atomic work, on which he said France is spending billions of francs to find information its allies already know.

Spaak expressed his views in an article in the current issue of the magazine Foreign Affairs. A three-time prime minister of Belgium, Spaak moved to the top NATO staff job in 1957. He is due in Washington today for the Atlantic Pact organization's 10th anniversary meeting.

Spaak called NATO a flourishing organization which he credited with halting Soviet expansion in Europe. However, he said, "common-sense solutions seem to be running head on into stubborn forces of nationalism and individualism within the alliance."

2 Boys Playing With Matches Start Blaze

Two 10-year-old boys started a grass fire on John St. Tuesday afternoon at 4:32, city firemen said.

Chief Charles Bryan said the boys were playing with matches.

The parents and the boys were ordered to appear before Bryan Saturday for a lecture.

A false alarm at a box on the corner of the Review building was answered at 4:29 p. m. Some boys had turned in the alarm, firemen said. Firemen were still on the false alarm when the call on the grass fire was received.

The opening of the Erie Canal in 1825 did much to promote the commerce and other industrial attractions of Albany, N.Y.

City Women's Federation Discusses Art Show Plans

Tentative plans for an art show to be held May 10 at the Carnegie Public Library were outlined at the meeting of the Executive Board of the City Federation of Women's Clubs Tuesday night in the Review conference room with Mrs. Richard C. Mayers, president, presiding.

Mrs. Don Schreckengost will be chairman and Miss Frances Jones, librarian, co-chairman.

A professional show will be held first, followed by an amateur competition. Awards of merit will be given to classes open to children, college students and adults. A special section will be arranged for the "Golden Age," or the senior citizens group, when quilts and articles from hobbies will be displayed.

Anyone interested may submit oil paintings, water colors, ceramics of large size, weaving, sculpture or other forms of art work.

Out-of-town judges will be selected.

Mrs. Everett Chandler, program chairman, announced the speaker for the federation meeting April 16 8:30 p. m. at the Mary Patterson Memorial will be Mrs. Sara Stimmel Rugh of Greensburg, Pa., a humorous lecturer, whose subject will be "Blame the Stars."

Miss Virginia Hamilton, treasurer, informed the group approximately $315 was realized from the recent Grace Price Production of "Heidi," children's play held at Westgate Auditorium.

Mrs. Robert Jones, clothing chairman, reported she issued 655 pieces of used clothing, 90 pairs of new shoes and 38 articles of new clothing during the past club season.

A contribution of $10 was given to the Red Cross Fund.

Marriage Annulment Bids Among Catholics Growing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — City-dwelling Roman Catholics are asking marriage annulments from the Vatican in increasing numbers, and the reason probably is social pressure, a New York psychologist reported today.

The appeals for such separation come largely from urban areas where Catholics are in the minority, said Dr. Irene R. Kiernan, child guidance expert for the New York City Board of Education.

These Catholics, Dr. Kiernan said, are under pressure to accept the dominant culture of the community, which includes groups that accept divorce which the Catholic Church does not.

Dr. Kiernan, who is a Catholic, set forth the results of a survey in a paper for the American Orthopsychiatric Assn.

For the decade 1947 through 1956, Dr. Kiernan said, the Sacred Roman Rota, highest Church court, made 1,576 decisions on annulment appeals. The number of cases increased from 62 in 1947 to 246 in 1955 and 238 in 1956, she said.

As the number of applications increased, the percentage of decisions favoring annulment decreased. This, she added, may have been due to an attempt on the part of the church to discourage annulment.

Clifford Odets was an actor for five years before he wrote "Golden Boy" and other hit plays.

Breach Widens In Split Between DiSalle, Carney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A political rift apparently has been boiling for some time between Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and the No. 2 man in the Ohio Senate, Charles J. Carney.

Now the breach has widened but whether it heals or splits further—as DiSalle says could happen—remains to be seen.

Carney brought the split into the open with a letter to DiSalle Monday asking the governor to give his views on "pending or possible" legislation affecting horse-racing.

The Youngstown senator requested DiSalle to express those views before the Senate's State Government Committee, of which Carney is chairman.

The senator also wrote: "Frankly, governor, I am becoming disenchanted with government by press release and government by trial balloon."

That lit the fuse.

DiSalle replied in a seven-page letter to Carney Tuesday:

"I feel that I have reason to question the motivation of your request both from the timing of it and the method of making it."

Carney said in his letter: "The only way I have been able to keep up with your (DiSalle's) views on state legislation has been by reading the . . . newspapers . . . I note that you freely admit some of your statements are trial balloons."

To this, the governor reminded Carney that "of all the members of the House and Senate, no one, outside of Speaker (James) Lantz and the president pro tem of the Senate, Frank King, has been in my office more than you to discuss legislation."

"Your disenchantment would distress me no end if it were based on fact rather than on an alliterative use of language designed for propaganda rather than results."

With that, the governor turned down Carney's invitation to testify on horse racing regulations before the senator's committee.

DiSalle explained that his racing program is not fully formulated. But when it is, he said, he will be willing to submit a special message to the Legislature.

The governor, in his letter, said he had differences with Carney before the November election. They included differences regarding the party platform and DiSalle's successful effort in blocking Carney's bid to become Senate majority leader.

"This exchange of letters," DiSalle told Carney, "which serves to emphasize a rather long-standing but basic difference in our approaches, can serve in two ways.

"It might serve to widen the rift that once occurred or it might serve as a means of joining both of us in a common objective—the improvement of this state by the molding of opposing points of view into legislative accomplishments which will best serve the interests of all."

DiSalle's letter closed by assuring Carney that he holds no personal animosity and that the governor's office remains open to the senator and others to discuss legislation.

Three-Man Group Named

Annexation Study Is Set

By Our Own Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A three-man sub committee was named Tuesday to try to slash a path through the tangled jungle of millage that threatens to bog down efforts to streamline Ohio's annexation laws.

The chairman of the metropolitan areas committee of the House named the study group after hearing several township and school officials protest what they termed threats to their economic survival posed by a bill to clarify and modernize annexation procedures.

CHIEF roadblock to the measure, which was co-sponsored by Rep. Bernice K. Mackenzie (D-Canton), appeared to be a clause aimed at meeting the constitutional requirement that levies not voted by taxpayers be limited to 10 mills.

Local subdivisions and school districts must share the 10 mills.

Many annexation attempts have been stymied because an upset in the shift from one subdivision to another pushes the "inside millage" above the ceiling. This most often happens when a school district is involved.

Under present law, the state school board must approve the transfer of a school district in an area's annexation.

The proposed bill would remove that provision, primarily because experience has shown that the state board refuses to go along with the shift if there is any danger of reducing the income of the remaining part of the school district.

School officials at the hearing protested that the state board frequently acts as an agent in protecting their districts against so-called "tax grab" annexations.

Township officials opposed that and other provisions of the bill designed to smooth the route to annexation. They charge that annexation procedures which do not give them a voice is unfair.

OTHER action by the committee was more encouraging for promoters of municipal development.

A bill, also introduced by Mrs. Mackenzie, to require county commissioners to approve a city's move to create its own township was unanimously recommended for passage.

Other committee action in the House included:

The health committee recommended for passage two bills, already passed by the Senate, on tuberculosis hospitals. Sponsored by Sen. Ed. Witmer (D-Canton), one would allow the hospitals to use excess beds to treat non-tuberculosis patients and the other would set up a standard procedure for closing TB hospitals no longer needed.

The group killed a perennial measure to create a state board of chiropractic examiners.

The insurance committee approved a bill to increase the five-year county building bond limit from $20,000 to $100,000, but killed a bill that would have increased the county limit on debt not voted by the people.

Debentures Offered In Behalf Of Armco

NEW YORK (AP)—Smith, Barney & Co. heads a group of finance houses offering 75 million dollars worth of 25 year sinking fund debentures today in behalf of Armco Steel Corp. of Middletown, Ohio.

The 4.35 per cent sinking fund debentures are due in 1984. Armco plans to use proceeds, with other funds, for additions, improvement and replacement of plants and equipment.

The steel firm also said application will be made to list the debentures on the New York stock exchange.

Delegate Selected By County Group

John Billiter of Salem, president of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council, was elected delegate to the state convention at a meeting Tuesday night at Lisbon.

Billiter will attend the convention at Canton April 23-25. He plans to call a meeting of the Board of Directors prior to the convention to discuss various proposals to be considered at the state meeting.

Discussion was held last night on a proposal to have a single centralized school in the middle of the county instead of the present two special classes — one at the Garfield School and the other at Salem.

A centralized school would enable instruction and organization of the youngsters into age and ability groups instead of geographical location as at present.

Transportation matters were also aired. About 15 attended. The next meeting will be April 28 at Salem.

Veterans' Group Meets On Honor Roll Project

Plans for a new city memorial were furthered by a veterans' committee at a meeting Tuesday night at the home of American Legion Post 374 in East End.

The type of memorial was discussed and the group decided to have Don Eckert take photographs of memorials in various other cities so as to obtain an idea of the type best suited for East Liverpool.

Wilbur Harmon, chairman, presided. The next meeting will be April 24 at 7:30 p. m. at the Disabled American Veterans home, 415 Market St.

Three-Man Group Named

Annexation Study Is Set

By Our Own Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A three-man sub committee was named Tuesday to try to slash a path through the tangled jungle of millage that threatens to bog down efforts to streamline Ohio's annexation laws.

The chairman of the metropolitan areas committee of the House named the study group after hearing several township and school officials protest what they termed threats to their economic survival posed by a bill to clarify and modernize annexation procedures.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Kyle MacDonnell Comes Back

Viewers with a predilection for familiar faces had the opportunity Tuesday to behold the young lady who, in 1948, was unanimously hailed as "television's first truly new and bright star." Kyle MacDonnell. . . . remember?

Marie Torre

Stars have a way of burning out in the mercurial world of television, and in Miss MacDonnell's case the dimout process enveloped her resources about five years ago.

"Suddenly there was no demand for me," she says, giving voice to a truth which has-beens are generally reluctant to admit.

-:-

MISS MacDONNELL returned to her old haunt via "The Jack Paar Show" Tuesday night in the hope of making a comeback and the attempt promises to meet with success.

-:-

WORD OF HER engagement sparked interest in various quarters, with the result that even before her reappearance she knew of at least two other jobs—one at Bucks County Theater for a one-week run in "Tunnel of Love" May 2, the other a May 24 date on "The Ed Sullivan Show."

She looks to the activity with the anticipation of one who's experienced prolonged idleness, and, let's face it, she has.

"Originally," she explained, "I left television to have a baby. When I tried to get back, it was difficult. I wasn't in demand. The fact that I had a little health problem didn't help either."

There was also a divorce in the offing, and when she wearied of those futile days, she went home to her parents in Kansas.

-:-

"I DIDN'T MIND quitting at the time," she put in, "because I wanted to be with my son. We led a very quiet life. I played bridge with all the girls I grew up with—all of them married now and with children. It was pleasant and relaxing—and dull, too, at times."

Though she was usually billed as a "singer," Miss MacDonnell was more than that. She was a personality.

"In full closeup," enthused a usually unimpressed critic, "she projects a warmth and friendliness which capitalize to the hilt on the factor of intimacy that is video at its most effective."

In view of her own TV experience, Miss MacDonnell is not without the usual anxieties on returning to the restive medium.

"AS I LOOK back, she recalls, "I remember that I was happiest during my first four weeks in television. . . . I wasn't reviewed and I wasn't sponsored. Then I found myself greeted by all sorts of people in public places and I didn't know why.

"I remember saying to myself, 'Either I'm losing my mind or I know more people than I think.' "

Stardom came, you see, "overnight." It was just as hasty in its departure!

-:-

A TWO-PART musical about the unhappy life of a former child star ("Too Bad About Sheila Troy") is scheduled for "Music Theater" April 16 and 23. Carol Lawrence of "West Side Story" will play the sad one. . . .

Dramatic coach Natasha Lytess, whose students include Marilyn Monroe, will take some of her own advice for the role of a domineering spinster in the April 8 episode of "Accused." . . .

Now that Hawaii is one of us, Dinah Shore will have an all-Hawaiian show April 12—in justification of her tagline: "See the U.S.A." . . .

ABC is regarded as the home of Westerns, but actually there are more of them at NBC—nine, and more coming up on the network's fall schedule. . . .

Advance TV spot announcements for the Academy Awards telecast next Monday ought not be dismissed as Madison Ave. ballyhoo. They're being directed by Marlon Brando, no less, with Oscar winner Karl Malden performing. . . .

Asta, the canine of "Thin Man" fame, might well be feeling like top dog of TV. Asta has a new litter—three puppies—and they'll be shown in the closing of an upcoming "Thin Man" show "in response to thousands of fan letters requesting a look at them."

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A 68-year-old man was killed Tuesday night when his bicycle was hit by a car on Ohio 535 in Painesville Twp. He was identified as Mikko Pohto of Fairport Harbor. Officers said there was a heavy fog at the time of the accident.

Board To Hold Test For Jobs

The Municipal Civil Service plans for a competitive examination Wednesday, April 22, to fill an anticipated vacancy on the fire department, preceded by a test Monday, April 20, for two posts in the city water department now held by provisional appointees.

The commission said it has been advised verbally by Chief Charles Bryan that Fireman William Raney plans to retire May 1. Since the present eligibility list for firemen's posts contains the name of only one man, the new competitive exam has been scheduled, the commission said.

In a recent test for fire department applicants, only two men competed and one received a passing grade—getting a place on the eligibility list.

In the April 20 tests, the commission will make up an eligibility list for two appointments as assistant maintenance man in the city water department. The jobs are held at present by men who were given 90-day provisional appointments. The temporary appointments were made after the water department sent a "personnel requisition" to the commission for the names of prospective appointees, but the commission had no eligibility list.

Although there is no vacancy at present, the commission also will conduct an exam April 20 to make up a new eligibility list for the post of utility supplyman at the water department's pumping and filtration plant. The assistant maintenance men work with the distribution department crews. The posts pay $1.60 an hour. The utility supplyman's job pays $310 a month.

The deadline for filing applications for all the job exams will be 4:30 p. m. April 17, the commission said. Applicants for the fire department job must be 21-31. The age bracket for the water department jobs is 21-55.

C .Of C. Groups Plan For Tour Of Industrialists

Plans for East Liverpool's part in a tour of the Ohio Valley area for industrialists June 29-30 were discussed Tuesday night when two Chamber of Commerce committees met in the Ohio Power Co. building.

The tour was discussed by the industrial development committee and the Chamber's committee in the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council. Walter L. Myers of Steubenville, executive secretary of the UOVDC, discussed the development council's program for 1959, also touching on East Liverpool's role in the tour.

Plans for the tour have been under way for several weeks. Many of the visiting industrialists will arrive June 28 at Greater Pittsburgh Airport. From Pittsburgh, they will be flown to Marietta-Parkersburg Airport to await the start of the tour. A dinner and entertainment for the visitors are being planned for the night of June 28 at the Lafayette Hotel in Marietta.

The tour by riverboat and chartered bus will begin the following day, continuing upriver as far as East Liverpool.

The Chamber's UOVDC committee is headed by Winston A. Porter. C. Walter Ashbaugh is chairman of the industrial development committee. Twenty-two attended.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Gifted Child Requires Parental Help

You've been hearing and reading much about gifted children and how a high proportion of them rarely develop their natural abilities. You have heard that gifted children have not had sufficient stimulation and opportunities for cultivating their rich mental resources. You have also read or heard that many of our brightest youths choose courses at school which they suppose will require the least effort, thereby avoiding science and mathematics.

By Garry Meyers

Several times in this column I have pointed out that the scarcity of will to work among modern youths has retarded many of these gifted children. Moreover, the prevailing theory and practice of bringing up children—expecting them to do only what they feel like doing—has not encouraged effort and hard work.

—:—

NEARLY ALL that you have heard about gifted children has been limited to book learning. Music has been ignored. Though natural ability is often general, it is sometimes special—as in music.

There are a goodly number of children with the ability to enjoy and make music. There are objective tests for identifying these children. Music teachers can often pick them out.

If you feel your child has unusual musical ability, you should try to cultivate his talents. His ability may be so strong that he needs only the opportunity to develop it. Yet many children discovered to be high in musical ability don't develop their talents in spite of the best opportunities afforded them. They lack the will to work hard.

PARENTS HAVE been led to suppose that, unless ways can be found to cause the musically-inclined child to practice hard and faithfully of his own accord, nothing can be done to develop his talents—that he should not be required to practice. Nonsense! There's just as much sense in requiring the musically-gifted child to do homework with music as there is in requiring the child gifted in reading, mathematics or science to do homework in these subjects.

If you have a gifted child, you are responsible for seeing that he studies and practices at home. It can be done.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

School Aide Talks To PTA

Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association Monday night.

He spoke on "Reading In the Elementary Schools." Blair said the growth of the vocabulary of the average child and learning to read were important in all studies.

Mrs. Eleanor Schleiter conducted devotions. Mrs. Alice Brown was accompanist for group singing. Willis Standley, president, presided. Mrs. Thomas Snow gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Amberry Brown, treasurer, reported.

William Martin reported $31 was realized from a recent skating party. The money will be used to help pay for a basketball court. The by-laws approved by the Ohio Congress of Federated PTA were accepted.

Mrs. Howard Merriman and Robert Haney were named to the nominating committee. A letter of thanks was read from the Child Counseling Center for a contribution.

The group voted to purchase 10 tickets for scout leaders to attend the Columbiana Boy Scout Council appreciation dinner April 22.

Each teacher and the office will be given $10 for miscellaneous expenses. Miss Elizabeth Coleman, principal, presented a president's pin to Standley.

The first grade, taught by Mrs. Ronald Delaney, won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by homeroom mothers. The next meeting will be April 27.

Woman Due To Testify In Murder Trial

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A witness who heard the shots that took wealthy Forrest Teel's life will be called by the state to testify about Teel's fatal struggle with his mistress of 15 years.

The witness is Edna Smith, an apartment house neighbor of the girl friend for whom Teel had jilted Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas, his accused slayer.

Deputy prosecutors said Mrs. Smith was watching Teel's auto when he entered it after an evening in the apartment of the new girl friend, Laura Mowrer. They declined to say whether she heard or saw signs of a struggle.

Mrs. Nicholas had learned Teel's whereabouts and was waiting in Teel's car when he returned to it.

The defense and prosecution agreed in opening statements Tuesday that Teel died of three bullet wounds from Mrs. Nicholas' small French revolver. But the prosecution called it a premeditated murder of jealousy while the defense said it happened accidentally as Teel tried to prevent Mrs. Nicholas from shooting herself.

Kyle MacDonnell Comes Back

Viewers with a predilection for familiar faces had the opportunity Tuesday to behold the young lady who, in 1948, was unanimously hailed as "television's first truly new and bright star." Kyle MacDonnell. . . . remember?

Marie Torre

Stars have a way of burning out in the mercurial world of television, and in Miss MacDonnell's case the dimout process enveloped her resources about five years ago.

"Suddenly there was no demand for me," she says, giving voice to a truth which has-beens are generally reluctant to admit.

-:-

MISS MacDONNELL returned to her old haunt via "The Jack Paar Show" Tuesday night in the hope of making a comeback and the attempt promises to meet with success.

-:-

WORD OF HER engagement sparked interest in various quarters, with the result that even before her reappearance she knew of at least two other jobs—one at Bucks County Theater for a one-week run in "Tunnel of Love" May 2, the other a May 24 date on "The Ed Sullivan Show."

She looks to the activity with the anticipation of one who's experienced prolonged idleness, and, let's face it, she has.

"Originally," she explained, "I left television to have a baby. When I tried to get back, it was difficult. I wasn't in demand. The fact that I had a little health problem didn't help either."

There was also a divorce in the offing, and when she wearied of those futile days, she went home to her parents in Kansas.

-:-

"I DIDN'T MIND quitting at the time," she put in, "because I wanted to be with my son. We led a very quiet life. I played bridge with all the girls I grew up with—all of them married now and with children. It was pleasant and relaxing—and dull, too, at times."

Though she was usually billed as a "singer," Miss MacDonnell was more than that. She was a personality.

"In full closeup," enthused a usually unimpressed critic, "she projects a warmth and friendliness which capitalize to the hilt on the factor of intimacy that is video at its most effective."

In view of her own TV experience, Miss MacDonnell is not without the usual anxieties on returning to the festive medium.

"AS I LOOK back, she recalls, "I remember that I was happiest during my first four weeks in television. . . . I wasn't reviewed and I wasn't sponsored. Then I found myself greeted by all sorts of people in public places and I didn't know why.

"I remember saying to myself, 'Either I'm losing my mind or I know more people than I think.' "

Stardom came, you see, "overnight." It was just as hasty in its departure!

-:-

A TWO-PART musical about the unhappy life of a former child star ("Too Bad About Sheila Troy") is scheduled for "Music Theater" April 16 and 23. Carol Lawrence of "West Side Story" will play the sad one. . . .

Dramatic coach Natasha Lytess, whose students include Marilyn Monroe, will take some of her own advice for the role of a domineering spinster in the April 8 episode of "Accused." . . .

Now that Hawaii is one of us, Dinah Shore will have an all-Hawaiian show April 12—in justification of her tagline: "See the U.S.A." . . .

ABC is regarded as the home of Westerns, but actually there are more of them at NBC—nine, and more coming up on the network's fall schedule. . . .

Advance TV spot announcements for the Academy Awards telecast next Monday ought not be dismissed as Madison Ave. ballyhoo. They're being directed by Marlon Brando, no less, with Oscar winner Karl Malden performing. . . .

Asta, the canine of "Thin Man" fame, might well be feeling like top dog of TV. Asta has a new litter—three puppies—and they'll be shown in the closing of an upcoming "Thin Man" show "in response to thousands of fan letters requesting a look at them."

Board To Hold Test For Jobs

The Municipal Civil Service plans for a competitive examination Wednesday, April 22, to fill an anticipated vacancy on the fire department, preceded by a test Monday, April 20, for two posts in the city water department now held by provisional appointees.

The commission said it has been advised verbally by Chief Charles Bryan that Fireman William Raney plans to retire May 1. Since the present eligibility list for firemen's posts contains the name of only one man, the new competitive exam has been scheduled, the commission said.

In a recent test for fire department applicants, only two men competed and one received a passing grade—getting a place on the eligibility list.

In the April 20 tests, the commission will make up an eligibility list for two appointments as assistant maintenance man in the city water department. The jobs are held at present by men who were given 90-day provisional appointments. The temporary appointments were made after the water department sent a "personnel requisition" to the commission for the names of prospective appointees, but the commission had no eligibility list.

Although there is no vacancy at present, the commission also will conduct an exam April 20 to make up a new eligibility list for the post of utility supplyman at the water department's pumping and filtration plant. The assistant maintenance men work with the distribution department crews. The posts pay $1.60 an hour. The utility supplyman's job pays $310 a month.

The deadline for filing applications for all the job exams will be 4:30 p. m. April 17, the commission said. Applicants for the fire department job must be 21-31. The age bracket for the water department jobs is 21-55.

C .Of C. Groups Plan For Tour Of Industrialists

Plans for East Liverpool's part in a tour of the Ohio Valley area for industrialists June 29-30 were discussed Tuesday night when two Chamber of Commerce committees met in the Ohio Power Co. building.

The tour was discussed by the industrial development committee and the Chamber's committee in the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council. Walter L. Myers of Steubenville, executive secretary of the UOVDC, discussed the development council's program for 1959, also touching on East Liverpool's role in the tour.

Plans for the tour have been under way for several weeks. Many of the visiting industrialists will arrive June 28 at Greater Pittsburgh Airport. From Pittsburgh, they will be flown to Marietta-Parkersburg Airport to await the start of the tour. A dinner and entertainment for the visitors are being planned for the night of June 28 at the Lafayette Hotel in Marietta.

The tour by riverboat and chartered bus will begin the following day, continuing upriver as far as East Liverpool.

The Chamber's UOVDC committee is headed by Winston A. Porter. C. Walter Ashbaugh is chairman of the industrial development committee. Twenty-two attended.

East Liverpool High School juniors and seniors participated in another guidance program today during the activity period.

Glenn Roberts, director of personnel at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., was to speak to seniors on "Work Responsibilities."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Gifted Child Requires Parental Help

You've been hearing and reading much about gifted children and how a high proportion of them rarely develop their natural abilities. You have heard that gifted children have not had sufficient stimulation and opportunities for cultivating their rich mental resources. You have also read or heard that many of our brightest youths choose courses at school which they suppose will require the least effort, thereby avoiding science and mathematics.

By Garry Meyers

Several times in this column I have pointed out that the scarcity of will to work among modern youths has retarded many of these gifted children. Moreover, the prevailing theory and practice of bringing up children—expecting them to do only what they feel like doing—has not encouraged effort and hard work.

—:—

NEARLY ALL that you have heard about gifted children has been limited to book learning. Music has been ignored. Though natural ability is often general, it is sometimes special—as in music.

There are a goodly number of children with the ability to enjoy and make music. There are objective tests for identifying these children. Music teachers can often pick them out.

If you feel your child has unusual musical ability, you should try to cultivate his talents. His ability may be so strong that he needs only the opportunity to develop it. Yet many children discovered to be high in musical ability don't develop their talents in spite of the best opportunities afforded them. They lack the will to work hard.

PARENTS HAVE been led to suppose that, unless ways can be found to cause the musically-inclined child to practice hard and faithfully of his own accord, nothing can be done to develop his talents—that he should not be required to practice. Nonsense! There's just as much sense in requiring the musically-gifted child to do homework with music as there is in requiring the child gifted in reading, mathematics or science to do homework in these subjects.

If you have a gifted child, you are responsible for seeing that he studies and practices at home. It can be done.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

School Aide Talks To PTA

Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association Monday night.

He spoke on "Reading In the Elementary Schools." Blair said the growth of the vocabulary of the average child and learning to read were important in all studies.

Mrs. Eleanor Schleiter conducted devotions. Mrs. Alice Brown was accompanist for group singing. Willis Standley, president, presided. Mrs. Thomas Snow gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Amberry Brown, treasurer, reported.

William Martin reported $31 was realized from a recent skating party. The money will be used to help pay for a basketball court. The by-laws approved by the Ohio Congress of Federated PTA were accepted.

Mrs. Howard Merriman and Robert Haney were named to the nominating committee. A letter of thanks was read from the Child Counseling Center for a contribution.

The group voted to purchase 10 tickets for scout leaders to attend the Columbiana Boy Scout Council appreciation dinner April 22.

Each teacher and the office will be given $10 for miscellaneous expenses. Miss Elizabeth Coleman, principal, presented a president's pin to Standley.

The first grade, taught by Mrs. Ronald Delaney, won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by homeroom mothers. The next meeting will be April 27.

Woman Due To Testify In Murder Trial

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A witness who heard the shots that took wealthy Forrest Teel's life will be called by the state to testify about Teel's fatal struggle with his mistress of 15 years.

The witness is Edna Smith, an apartment house neighbor of the girl friend for whom Teel had jilted Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas, his accused slayer.

Deputy prosecutors said Mrs. Smith was watching Teel's auto when he entered it after an evening in the apartment of the new girl friend, Laura Mowrer. They declined to say whether she heard or saw signs of a struggle.

Mrs. Nicholas had learned Teel's whereabouts and was waiting in Teel's car when he returned to it.

The defense and prosecution agreed in opening statements Tuesday that Teel died of three bullet wounds from Mrs. Nicholas' small French revolver. But the prosecution called it a premeditated murder of jealousy while the defense said it happened accidentally as Teel tried to prevent Mrs. Nicholas from shooting herself.

Police Hunt UMW Official About Slaying

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP) — State police searched the strike-torn eastern Kentucky coalfields today for a United Mine Workers official wanted for questioning in the killing of a non-union operator.

The official was not identified but Public Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill said "we feel he is the key to the solution of Woodrow Smith's death."

The 42-year-old operator was shot six times Tuesday, while he and a companion headed for a minister's home after pickets showed up at the small mine on Stinking Creek near here.

Smith's companion was unharmed but was taken into protective custody. He was not identified.

"Smith was trying to avoid trouble," Sturgill said. "Pickets had been harassing him for two days to sign a contract."

The UMW has been on strike in seven counties since March 9 to back up demands for a $24.25 a day contract, a $2 increase over the old agreement.

State police arrested four pickets, two of them women, when rocks were thrown at trucks hauling coal to mines running without a contract in the nearby Hazard area.

Miners' wives were among 200 pickets who tried to halt activity at the Ashlo Coal Co. and at Jakes Fork Coal Co. State police broke up both demonstrations.

UMW officials charged that one woman was struck by a state trooper.

Approximately 50 to 100 pickets were present at Smith's mine prior to the shooting.

Sheriff Paul Stamper said that after Smith and his companion left the pit they were accosted by five men with guns.

Learning Smith's identity, the sheriff said, the men yelled: "That's the man we want" and marched Smith away. Smith's body was discovered about an hour later.

Load Limits Removed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The warm weather season is really here, the State Highway Department decided today. Director Everett S. Preston said load limits on all highways south of U.S. 40 are removed. They were enforced during the freezing-thawing cycle in cold weather to prevent damage to the roads.

Some Calories Offer Real Bargains

On the weight score, it's the grand total of calories that makes the difference. Calories are the measure for fuel. The amount of fuel in a given food, a recipe, a meal or a day can be measured in terms of calories. When the food eaten furnishes more fuel, as measured in terms of calories, than are needed to cover activity, the excess is stored as fat.

Ida Jean Kain

Just 100 excess calories a day can add up to ten pounds in a single year. As a basis for figuring, use 3,500 calories to the pound. Pure fat furnishes 9 calories per gram and yields 4,321 calories to the pound.

But body fat is partly water, thus the figure of 3,500 calories is used to represent a pound of weight.

IT'S SURPRISING how quickly a hundred extra calories can slip in. A tablespoon of butter or margarine, 10 French fries, an ounce of cheese, an average slice of bread lightly buttered, a piece of candy—each boosts the calories by 100.

While it is helpful to know the calorie score, this measure of the fuel content of food is only a quantitative term. In other words, it doesn't give any clue to the quality of the calories — or tell whether they are empty or full in terms of protection. Empty calories provide fuel, but very little protection from the nutrient standpoint.

Get acquainted with the term nutrients. The nutrients—protein, minerals and vitamins — are essential to the upkeep and renewal of body tissue. Without adequate amounts of vital nutrients, body repair work will be shoddy.

Nature can use any kind of food for fuel, but repair material comes chiefly from the protective foods, so they are the bargain calories. When calories are lessened, as they must be in order to reduce, the quality of the daily calories becomes of the utmost importance.

Fortunately, foods high in body replenishing materials—lean meat, fish and fowl, eggs, cottage cheese, skim milk and buttermilk, green and yellow vegetables and fruits — are not high in calories. For this reason, a reducing diet, based on the protective foods, affords perfect nutrition.

TODAY CREEPING pounds are a constant threat. Why? It is simply that we burn fewer calories than we did in the good old drudgery days. The mechanical factor which is so large a part of modern living, requires comparatively little muscular effort.

The solution is to alter the pattern of daily meals so as to lessen the calories, and to step up body toning exercise so as to burn an extra hundred or two calories. The enhanced feeling of well - being which daily exercise imparts will be a bonus reward.

For "Revised Calorie Chart," send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Empty calories provide fuel, but very little protection from the nutrient standpoint.

Get acquainted with the term nutrients. The nutrients—protein, minerals and vitamins — are essential to the upkeep and renewal of body tissue. Without adequate amounts of vital nutrients, body repair work will be shoddy.

Nature can use any kind of food for fuel, but repair material comes chiefly from the protective foods, so they are the bargain calories. When calories are lessened, as they must be in order to reduce, the quality of the daily calories becomes of the utmost importance.

Fortunately, foods high in body replenishing materials—lean meat, fish and fowl, eggs, cottage cheese, skim milk and buttermilk, green and yellow vegetables and fruits — are not high in calories. For this reason, a reducing diet, based on the protective foods, affords perfect nutrition.

TODAY CREEPING pounds are a constant threat. Why? It is simply that we burn fewer calories than we did in the good old drudgery days. The mechanical factor which is so large a part of modern living, requires comparatively little muscular effort.

The solution is to alter the pattern of daily meals so as to lessen the calories, and to step up body toning exercise so as to burn an extra hundred or two calories. The enhanced feeling of well - being which daily exercise imparts will be a bonus reward.

For "Revised Calorie Chart," send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

100 Attend Presbytery's Spring Session Held Here

Approximately 100 attended the spring meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Robert L. Thompson, student minister of the Smithfield and Bloomfield churches, was examined for ordination in May. He was asked to give the opening sermon.

During the morning session, the Rev. Roy V. Chapin of the Germano and Centre-Unity churches in Harrison County asked for dissolution of pastoral relationship. He was granted retirement from active ministry, effective May 1.

The Germano congregation has made Rev. Chapin pastor emeritus, as he was instrumental in uniting three churches of different denominations in the Germano church.

Another request for dissolution of pastoral relationship was made by the Rev. George Jenkins of the Jewettt-Scio Ridge Larger Parish, who is becoming general presbyter of the Steubenville Presbytery April 15. He is replacing the Rev. Frank L. Trubee of Minerva.

Eugene Hall addressed the elders and guests while the various committees were in session. Guests included the Rev. Martin J. Bohn,, a chaplain stationed with the Army near Pittsburgh and a member of the Presbytery. He is a former local pastor.

Following dinner served at 12:30 p. m. by the United Women's Association of the church, under the direction of Mrs. Stanley W. Rose, the group reconvened when reports of the committee meetings held during the morning were given.

It was announced that the union of two churches—Bergholz Presbyterian and the Bergholz Yellow Creek United Presbyterian, to form the Bergholz Trinity United Presbyterian Church, will be held April 12 at the Presbyterian church.

Don Eckert of East Liverpool, audio-visual consultant of the Presbytery, addressed the group and explained how tape recordings and cameras aid the churches.

The afternoon meeting was extended because of the discussion on the proposed transfer of the Yorksville and Dennison Presbyterian Churches to the Wooster Presbytery.

The Presbytery voted for the churches to remain with the Steubenville Presbytery. The discussion will be continued at a later meeting.

The Rev. Russell Owens, pastor of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End, was acting host minister in the absence of the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller.

Dr. A. K. Davison of the First United Presbyterian Church and moderator of the Presbytery, was in charge of the opening devotions with Miss Ruth Ann Wellington of the host church organist.

Two Soviets Are Expelled From Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has ordered two Soviet Embassy attaches expelled from the country, charging they had a hand in the Easter weekend rail strike. Two other Red attaches were reported marked to go.

An official source said the second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Nicolai M. Remisov, and a military-naval attache, Nicolai V. Asenov, were given until Friday to get out of the country. They reportedly plan to take a Canadian airliner Friday morning to Toronto.

Two members of a diplomatc mission from an unidentified Soviet satellite also were reported to have been declared no longer welcome in Mexico. There was speculation they were Czechoslovak or Polish.

The strike fizzled Monday after the government had rounded up an estimated 3,000 leftist union leaders and followers. The government said it had evidence the strike was a Communist plot.

Workers flocked to their jobs Tuesday and officials said 140 trains were back on the run. Many of the workers said they had been coerced into striking by threats of torture or reprisals against their families.

The two Soviets were said to have had regular contact with Demetrio Vallejo, leftist rail union leader who organized the last three national rail strikes. He was arrested Sunday and reportedly talked to authorities about the Soviets' role in the walkout.

After Vallejo's arrest, the government appointed a four-man group to direct the railway union. An election of new officers was ordered in an effort to root out Vallejo's influence.

The strikers called for a 16 per cent wage boost granted earlier to workers on the National Railways, which carry the bulk of Mexico's passenger and freight traffic.

The government branded the walkout illegal and ordered the men back to their posts. A wave of sympathy strikes began on the National Railways and the government, anticipating a nationwide stoppage and sympathy walkouts by other leftist-led unions, ordered the widespread arrests.

Income Tax Aide Speaks To Club At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE —The second highest tax collection in the Internal Revenue Service's history was taken in last year, William Lynch of East Palestine, employe of the IRS collection divison at New Castle, told the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Mansell's Restaurant.

Lynch said $80 billion was collected in 1958. Of each dollar received in federal taxes, 50 cents was from individual income tax, 29 cents from corporation taxes, 12 cents from excise taxes and 7 cents from customs.

In spending this tax money, 68 cents of eachdollar was used for defense, 22 cents for fixed costs such as interest and Veterans Administration, slightly less than 10 cents for other government expenses and only half a cent for collection of taxes.

Lynch said the IRS has some 50,000 employes in collection, auditing, intelligence and other divisions. He sad employes have to become familiar with the detailed contents of a 1,000-page book on the IRS, which was established in 1913.

The directors of the Kiwanis Club last night began plans for the annual high school mathematics contest for which entries closed yesterday. Tabulation of the some 40 entries is under way today.

Khrushchev Shows He Has Bounce

(This summer's summit meeting, if it comes off, will seat President Eisenhower across the table from a man experienced in the arts of political in-fighting and Communist intrigue. This article, third of a series of five, tells more of the kind of antagonist Khrushchev can be.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Stubby Nikita Khrushchev planted himself in the middle of a field, surrounded by awed farmers and Communist functionaries. A brisk breeze fanned to motion the tiny wisps of white hair on his nearly naked round dome.

"Here," exclaimed Khrushchev, pointing dramatically to the corn, "is the complete sausage on the handle! Here is beefsteak; here is bacon! How will these plants look in a month and a half, when harvest comes? The cobs will be a half yard long. Now you understand why I am so enthusiastic about corn!"

Khrushchev owed much of his career to his interest in agriculture and his knowledge of the farmer. Boss at last, he could talk confidently about his big ideas. It hasn't been so in the past. His first big idea about farming, in fact, almost cost him his head.

AS A MEMBER of Stalin's inner Politburo and boss of the Ukraine, Khrushchev conceived the idea of revolutionizing collective farming as a step toward the goal of Communism.

In general charge of Soviet agriculture was Andrei Andreyevich Andreyev, old "triple A," weak, inefficient, always tottering on the edge of disaster. For the aggressive Khrushchev, Andreyev was a pushover.

Farms, said Khrushchev, would be transformed into agricultural factories. Farmers would become farm industry workers. Small collectives would be merged on a vast scale into huge farm factories.

He reckoned without the peasants. There was grumbling, resentment, even resistance. He pushed through thousands of amalgamations, but suddenly Stalin slapped him down and halted the program.

The coal miner from Kursk listened in brooding silence at the 20th Communist Congress in October 1952. Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's dour right hand, referred to Khrushchev as one of "our individual executive workers" who erred in trying to force farm consolidation.

BUT Khrushchev had bounce. He emerged from the 1952 congress a member of the expanded Presidium which supplanted the Politburo, and a member of an expanded party secretariat. He lost no time in nailing down his influence.

Malenkov would live to rue his words. Long after Stalin's death, Khrushchev would revert to 1952 and blame Malenkov for the sorry state of Soviet agriculture then. He would succeed in having Malenkov thrown out of the hierarchy.

Shortly after the 1952 congress, the lives of all Politburo members were in grave danger. Stalin, to quote a diplomat of the day, had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge was in the making. Stalin's assistants fabricated a fantastic story about a plot of doctors, most of them Jewish, to poison Stalin and other leading figures.

LUCKILY for the Politburo — some say it was more than coincidence — Stalin died in March 1953.

Malenkov took both of Stalin's jobs: premier and first party secretary, in control of both party and government. Within two weeks, Khrushchev nudged Malenkov from the party job.

Those were nervous days. The new leadership, calling itself "collective," felt impelled to promise abundance to the long suffering public.

It apparently felt the need of popular support, something unheard of in Stalin's day. The whole fantastic story of the doctor's plot was reversed.

Hearing Resumes On Request For Phone Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A hearing resumes today on the application of Eastern Telephone Service Co. for a rate increase that would affect subscribers in Athens, Ashtabula, Washington, Trumbull, Perry and Morgan counties.

At Tuesday's hearing before Utilities Commissioner Everett H. Krueger Jr., a company spokesman testified that Eastern Telephone risks curtailment of its expansion and improvement program if it can't get a rate increase.

The testimony was given by Frank Quatman, assistant to and son of the firm's president, George B. Quatman.

Eastern Telephone, whose headquarters are in Lima, is seeking rates which it says would yield a 6.34 per cent return on the value of its property, or about $199,173 a year.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax or scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Warriors Get Chamberlain In Pro Draft

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Big Ten, where college basketball teams usually raise hob with each other's season records, is still the favorite pickin' spot for pro basketball.

In the National Basketball Assn. draft Tuesday, 11 players were pulled out of the Big Ten — almost twice the number chosen from any other conference.

Cutting across conference lines, the pros picked every eligible on the first three Associated Press All-America teams.

George Washington University had three men drafted — the most from any school. The Southern Conference school contributed Gene Gaurilia, Boston's first pick; Bill Telasky, Philadelphia's fifth choice, and Bucky McDonald, New York's sixth selection.

For the rest of the conferences, the Missouri Valley and Pacific Coast gave up six each, the Southern, Southeastern, Big Eight and Southwest Conference each contributed four and the Atlantic Coast, Ohio Valley and Ivy League loops each had three draftees.

The pros also picked 28 players from independent schools or smaller state conferences.

In all, the eight NBA teams drafted 81 players for possible use in the 1959-1960 season.

The prize of the draft was Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, 7-foot-2 former Kansas star who elected to spend his last year of college eligibility playing with the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Philadelphia Warriors picked him as a high school territorial choice four years ago and affirmed this choice at Tuesday's draft.

Little League Meeting Set For Tonight At 8

An open meeting for anyone interested in the 1959 Little League season will be held tonight at 8 in the Travelers Hotel. Dick Forzano, president, will preside.

Gordon Eyes Piersall For Job At Third

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Cleveland Indian Manager Joe Gordon is considering giving Jim Piersall a trial at third base.

"I don't see why he couldn't play it," Gordon said Tuesday. "He can pick up a ground ball and he's got a good arm. He can't do any worse than other boys we've played there."

Carroll Hardy has been impressive this spring in his battle to take the center field job from Piersall, who came to the Tribe from the Boston Red Sox.

"What speed we'd have with both Piersall and Hardy in the lineup," Gordon said. "We'd have the fastest club in the league."

The San Francisco Giants scored four runs in the ninth inning Tuesday to beat the Indians 7-5.

Gary Bell held the Giants to three hits in the six innings he pitched and the only run scored off him was Bob Schmidt's home run in the third inning.

Al Cicotte, fresh off the injured list, replaced Bell in the seventh.

Southpaw Herb Score goes against the Red Sox here today and Mike Garcia faces the Chicago Cubs Thursday in the exhibition finale at Corbett Field.

Green And Burke Set New Scoring Marks In 'Y' Loop

Jack Green and Jan Burke waged one of the hottest scoring duels seen in the YMCA League in several years Tuesday night at the Y.

Both cagers poured in 45 points each as Green led Scafidi's to an 86-84 victory over Reed's.

The 45 points represent a new league high this season.

Anderson's wrapped up the championship of the second half by winning its fifth straight with a 59-36 victory over Hale's.

Carl Anderson paced his team with 17 while George Hale dropped in 15 for the losers.

Cassady Plans Guard For Remodeled Nose

DETROIT (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassady is going to try to keep his remodeled nose away from damage in the Detroit Lions' football games next fall.

The quick-legged halfback will cover his features with a nose guard for the first time in his football career.

Cassady's twisted nose has been straightened by surgery and an obstruction was removed to aid his breathing. Calcium was beginning to form after the Cassady profile was mashed in three times.

Cassady's nose was broken twice in his All-America career at Ohio State. He suffered similar damage once since joining the rough National Football League in 1956.

ANDRE RODGERS of the San Francisco Giants is out while trying to score in the second inning of game with Indians Tuesday at Phoenix after teammate Ed Bressoud doubled to left field. Play was from Minnie Minoso to Ray Webster who relayed throw to catcher Russ Nixon (right). Giants won, 7-5. (UPI Telephoto)

Don't Mention 8th Place To Phils' Eddie Sawyer

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Don't mention last place to Eddie Sawyer. The likeable Philadelphia manager has declared these two words taboo in the Phillies' camp.

"We're definitely not a last place club," Sawyer said. "We're greatly improved over last year. We've made several changes but the biggest change has been in our attitude. I think the biggest thing we've accomplished is getting rid of the losing complex. That alone makes us not a last-place club."

The Phillies have made two important trades. One gave them a second baseman, who may rank as one of the best defensive infielders in the league. He is George (Sparky) Anderson, formerly of Montreal. The other brought a new battery, pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas, from San Francisco. The work of this pair has lightened Sawyer's worries.

"I've got to like that deal," Sawyer said. "We needed a catcher. The combine batting average of the three we had last year was .210. Thomas hit around .260 and he's a fine receiver. Gomez is an established pitcher who has still to reach his peak. He's been just about perfect this spring.

Sawyer reasoned that his pitching has got to be better because of the stronger defense and catching. He named Robin Roberts (17-14), Gomez (10-12), Curt Simmons (7-14), Don Cardwell (9-6), Ray Semproch (13-11) and Seth Morehead (1-6) as his starters.

"The pitching staff potentially is the best I've ever had," said Sawyer.

Sawyer also hopes for better hitting from Ed Bouchee, Stan Lopata and Wally Post, who had disappointing seasons in 1958.

Harry Anderson, the regular left fielder, gives every indication of being one of the top home run and RBI men in the league this year. Richie Ashburn, the National League batting champion, again will be in center field with Post in right. Bob Bowman and pinch hitter de luxe Dave Philley are the outfield alternates.

The infield shapes up with Bouchee at first, Anderson at second, Chico Fernandez at short and either Gene Freese or Willie Jones at third base.

"It will be all up to our hitting," Sawyer said. "I'm not worried about the pitching. We need a right-handed power hitter to become a contender. We're overweighted with left-handers. Where we'll get a right-handed hitter I don't know but if we should get one we'll be on even terms with anyone."

Litten's Pony Team To Practice Saturday

The Litten Motors Pony League baseball squad will meet for practice Saturday morning at 9 at the Lawrenceville diamond near Chester, Dick Owen, manager announced. Members of last year's team and new candidates are requested to attend.

Midland Nine Wins 1st, 6-4

Coach Charles Polce's Midland nine won its first home game in four years by defeating South Side, 6-4, in an exhibition contest for both schools Tuesday.

The Leopards broke a 3-3 tie by pushing across two runs in the fifth inning then added one in the sixth.

Dean Frederick fanned 13 to wind up as the winning hurler. He gave up six hits. Rich Ashcroft, the loser, limited Midland to two hits but four errors and four passed balls led to South Side's downfall.

Don Kane and Steve Ordich collected the lone safeties for Midland while Golden paced South Side's attack with a pair of doubles.

The score was tied 3-3 at the end of the second inning, and remained deadlocked until Midland broke the game open in the fifth.

Ohio Valley Conference To Hold Shoot

The Ohio Valley Field Archery Conference will begin its fifth year of competition with a 28-target field round Sunday at the Ambridge District Sportsmen range near Baden, Pa.

The other clubs in addition to Ambridge and Whitefeather are Aliquippa Buck tails, Coraopolis District Sportsmen, Clinton Bowmen, Brodhead Archers of Monaca and Sunflower Archers of New Brighton.

Fifteen shoots have been scheduled this season between April 5 and Sept. 13. All will be open to the public with awards in all classes, Reinard said.

Four Games Set On Opening Night

A formidable field of 20 teams has been lined up to compete in the 34th annual Tri-State Basketball Tournament which will get under way Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Tournament officials said the event will be held on five nights instead of six as originally planned. Games will be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week and Thursday and Friday of next week.

Tri-State Schedule For Thursday Listed

Game No. 1

7:30 — Local 5047, Midland vs Brady's, ELO.

Game No. 2

8 — Kennedy's, ELO vs. Slinger's, Wheeling

Game No. 3

9:30 — Freed's and Pete's, ELO vs. Don's Drive Inn, Wheeling.

Game No. 4

10 — Heights Cafe, Steubenville vs. Midland USW.

Joe's All-Stars, last year's runner-up, and two local entries—Brady's Coffee Shop and Thorofare Market—sent the field to 20 teams. A Medina team which entered over the weekend withdrew late Monday.

Joe's will be led by Wally Walowac, the sensational scorer and former Marshall College ace. Walowac was most valuable player here two years ago.

Brady's is made up of talent from East Liverpool and Wellsville, while Thorogare consists of local passers.

Four games will be played Thursday night, beginning at 7:30. Local 5047 of Midland and Brady's will open the tourney.

Games will be sandwiched and Chuck Kennedy's, a team which captured the Wellsville Jaycee tournament Saturday, will meet Slinger's of Wheeling at 8 p. m.

A topnotch squad—Geneva College—will perform under the Freed's-Pete banner in the 9:30 contest against Don's Drive Inn of Wheeling.

In the finale at 10, Heights Cafe of Steubenville will clash with a strong Midland USW team comprised of former Geneva College stars, including Bill Blair, Ken Woodschick, Bill Swogger, Jim Irons and Len Clark.

Four more games are scheduled for Friday and Saturday night before the action stops until next week.

Scafied's, led by Nick Cutich of Clemson and formerly a standout at Monaca, will be among the teams seeing action Friday night.

Joe's All-Stars will take the court in the 10 o'clock game Friday against Midway, while Alex Carry-Out-American Billiards, which sports a lineup from Pittsburgh area colleges, will play in the 9:30 game, meeting the winner of the Local 5047—Brady contest.

Gengarellas, which has won the tourney the last two years and can make tournament history with three straight, is back again, but won't see action until Saturday at 9:30 when they face the Shelly Speed Queen five of Canton.

The Gengarella entry will present some outstanding college talent from Western Pennsylvania. The players include Jack O'Malley and Don Falenski of St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., Bernie Matthews and Red Ryan of Duquesne, Beanie Gordon and Herb Lake of Youngstown University, Larry Rombosky of Washington and Jefferson, John Riser of Akron Goodyear and Pitt and Bob Bingham of Wellsville.

Gengarellas are among three other teams which have captured the tourney two years in succession. The Midland sponsor defeated Joe's 103-92 last year to win its second straight.

Fleetwing turned the trick in 1938 and 1939 and the Republican Club of East Liverpool won it in 1941 and 1942.

This year tourney officials have dusted off an 18-year-old torphy which was purchased to be given to any team winning the tourney three years in succession.

The trophy was purchased in 1940 after Fleetwing became the first team to win the tourney two years in a row.

Another strong outfit will wait until Saturday night to swing into action. St. Paul's Sports of Cleveland, listing Jim Stone and Gerald Warfield of East Tech fame, may have the material to sneak into the winner's circle.

Three other team's entered in the 34th tourney have won the event in previous years.

Freed-Pete's took the crown in 1954, Chuck Kennedy's won in 1955 and Joe's All-Stars in 1956.

All-Tournament Team Will Receive Watches

Watches will be awarded this year to the 10 members of the Tri-State's All-Tournament team. Trophies were presented in the past.

The all-tourney team will be selected by a board of seven coaches who will be seated in Row B directly behind the scoring table.

The board will consist of Merrill Hall, chairman, John Karaffa of East Liverpool, Max Tuttle of Chester, John Robison of Newell, Jack McDevitt of Wellsville, Jack Frontone of Beaver Local and George Hamilton of Midland.

Boxing Chairman Rates Proposed Fight No Match

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the National Boxing Assn. Ratings Committee said today a middleweight title bout between champion Ray Robinson and Paul Pender "would be nothing more than a joke."

"Pender is not his fight," declared Saddy. "Pender just made 10th place on the NBA's list of contenders to Robinson's title. Robinson has got to fight Carmen Basilio, No. 1, or Gene Fullmer, No. 2."

Saddy referred to the disclosure that the Sharkey A. A. of Boston had guaranteed Robinson $100,000 to meet Pender in a 15-round title fight in June. George Gainford, Robinson's manager, described the offer as "quite attractive."

Earlier in the week Saddy said his group might withdraw its recognition of Sugar Ray as champion unless he signes for a title defense by April 25 — exactly 13 months after he recaptured the crown from Basilio.

If Robinson were to addicate — and Saddy thinks he will — the NBA would seek a title match between Basilio and Fullmer, both former champions.

The NBA chose Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, the newly crowned featherweight champ, as its boxer - of - the - month. Moore stopped Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria March 18 to bring back the 126-pound title to America.

Road Group Starts Bid To Halt Favoritism

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A campaign to halt nepotism has begun in the Ohio Highway Department.

Several instances of nepotism—showing favoritism to relatives—have come to the attention of Robert E. Wallace, executive secretary of the department.

The campaign takes the form of an order designed to prohibit the hiring of more than one member of the same family within the department. However, it would not affect members of the same family now employed, Wallace said.

The campaign is the outgrowth of recent publicity given congressmen who added wives and other relatives to their payrolls.

Reds' Slugger Gus Bell Almost Gave Up Game

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—It wasn't too many years ago that Gus Bell, slugging Cincinnati Reds' outfielder, was discouraged with baseball, disillusioned with himself and even homesick. His age at the time was 18.

It was a summer day in July 1947, when he stood in the outfield at Leesburg, Fla., and the bottom dropped out of his confidence.

"It was my first season in organized ball and . . . I began to think of my batting average, somewhere around .220. And I began to think of what a lousy fielder I was. . . .

"After the game I walked up to Bill Good, the manager, and told him I was discouraged, homesick and wanted to get out of baseball. . . .

"We had a long talk. He told me I had a good future in the game if I worked hard. He said nothing came easy and asked me if I wouldn't reconsider seriously.

"I thought it over and believed Bill had given me a new outlook. I decided to stick it out and, well, here I am."

Here he is, indeed, a hardened, trim slugger who in these rosy days of spring training bids fair to hit .300 this season.

After two injury-plagued seasons—he batted .282 in 1957 and .252 last year—Bell thinks this will be his year of rejuvenation. The Reds hope so, too.

He belted two home runs Tuesday driving in three markers in the Reds' 5-0 exhibition victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

He broke his foot in a 1957 slide. Last year, he injured his foot again and then had a virus attack and blood poisoning.

Manager Mayo Smith said Tuesday: "I know Gus had an off-season last year but I'm confident he'll have a big one for us this year."

Showdown Set In NBA Final

BOSTON (AP) — The stubborn Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern division for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

All even after six games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental struggle to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will open the best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis-St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

Snead Rated 5-1 Choice In Masters Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead, budding star of television, was made the 5-1 betting favorite today to snare his fourth Masters golf championship.

Mainly on the strength of his phenomenal 13-match unbeaten streak in the nationally televised series, the West Virginia slugger drew top advance billing over Ken Venturi of San Francisco, 6-1, and a trio of past winners, defender Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, bracketed at 8-1.

Although open betting in this Dixie fairway extravaganza is strictly verboten, a bookmaker has printed a "line" which is flagrantly distributed in the hotel lobbies and around the course.

The 72-hole tournament — the 23rd edition of Bobby Jones' brainchild—opens Thursday on the lush Augusta National course where President Eisenhower's quick hook is no stranger. There's a round a day through Sunday.

The advance odds may undergo some quick revision overnight in view of the redhot practice performances of 1956 champion Jack Burke Jr. of Houston, Tex., who has had successive rounds of 66 and 64.

Snead, winner here in 1949, 1952 and 1954, is still riding the crest of his television winnings, which have amounted to $28,000.

Playing on tough courses, he met the game's top players and beat them all over a period of several months, ending last November. He averaged 67.2 strokes for 13 rounds, never went over 70 and had one 63—a record at Sea Island, Ga.

Warriors Get Chamberlain In Pro Draft

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Big Ten, where college basketball teams usually raise hob with each other's season records, is still the favorite pickin' spot for pro basketball.

In the National Basketball Assn. draft Tuesday, 11 players were pulled out of the Big Ten — almost twice the number chosen from any other conference.

Cutting across conference lines, the pros picked every eligible on the first three Associated Press All-America teams.

George Washington University had three men drafted — the most from any school. The Southern Conference school contributed Gene Gaurilia, Boston's first pick; Bill Telasky, Philadelphia's fifth choice, and Bucky McDonald, New York's sixth selection.

For the rest of the conferences, the Missouri Valley and Pacific Coast gave up six each, the Southern, Southeastern, Big Eight and Southwest Conference each contributed four and the Atlantic Coast, Ohio Valley and Ivy League loops each had three draftees.

The pros also picked 28 players from independent schools or smaller state conferences.

In all, the eight NBA teams drafted 81 players for possible use in the 1959-1960 season.

The prize of the draft was Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, 7-foot-2 former Kansas star who elected to spend his last year of college eligibility playing with the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Philadelphia Warriors picked him as a high school territorial choice four years ago and affirmed this choice at Tuesday's draft.

Gordon Eyes Piersall For Job At Third

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Cleveland Indian Manager Joe Gordon is considering giving Jim Piersall a trial at third base.

"I don't see why he couldn't play it," Gordon said Tuesday. "He can pick up a ground ball and he's got a good arm. He can't do any worse than other boys we've played there."

Carroll Hardy has been impressive this spring in his battle to take the center field job from Piersall, who came to the Tribe from the Boston Red Sox.

"What speed we'd have with both Piersall and Hardy in the lineup," Gordon said. "We'd have the fastest club in the league."

The San Francisco Giants scored four runs in the ninth inning Tuesday to beat the Indians 7-5.

Gary Bell held the Giants to three hits in the six innings he pitched and the only run scored off him was Bob Schmidt's home run in the third inning.

Al Cicotte, fresh off the injured list, replaced Bell in the seventh.

Southpaw Herb Score goes against the Red Sox here today and Mike Garcia faces the Chicago Cubs Thursday in the exhibition finale at Corbett Field.

Green And Burke Set New Scoring Marks In 'Y' Loop

Jack Green and Jan Burke waged one of the hottest scoring duels seen in the YMCA League in several years Tuesday night at the Y.

Both cagers poured in 45 points each as Green led Scafidi's to an 86-84 victory over Reed's.

The 45 points represent a new league high this season.

Anderson's wrapped up the championship of the second half by winning its fifth straight with a 59-36 victory over Hale's.

Carl Anderson paced his team with 17 while George Hale dropped in 15 for the losers.

Cassady Plans Guard For Remodeled Nose

DETROIT (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassady is going to try to keep his remodeled nose away from damage in the Detroit Lions' football games next fall.

The quick-legged halfback will cover his features with a nose guard for the first time in his football career.

Cassady's twisted nose has been straightened by surgery and an obstruction was removed to aid his breathing. Calcium was beginning to form after the Cassady profile was mashed in three times.

Cassady's nose was broken twice in his All-America career at Ohio State. He suffered similar damage once since joining the rough National Football League in 1956.

Don't Mention 8th Place To Phils' Eddie Sawyer

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Don't mention last place to Eddie Sawyer. The likeable Philadelphia manager has declared these two words taboo in the Phillies' camp.

"We're definitely not a last place club," Sawyer said. "We're greatly improved over last year. We've made several changes but the biggest change has been in our attitude. I think the biggest thing we've accomplished is getting rid of the losing complex. That alone makes us not a last-place club."

The Phillies have made two important trades. One gave them a second baseman, who may rank as one of the best defensive infielders in the league. He is George (Sparky) Anderson, formerly of Montreal. The other brought a new battery, pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas, from San Francisco. The work of this pair has lightened Sawyer's worries.

"I've got to like that deal," Sawyer said. "We needed a catcher. The combine batting average of the three we had last year was .210. Thomas hit around .260 and he's a fine receiver. Gomez is an established pitcher who has still to reach his peak. He's been just about perfect this spring.

Sawyer reasoned that his pitching has got to be better because of the stronger defense and catching. He named Robin Roberts (17-14), Gomez (10-12), Curt Simmons (7-14), Don Cardwell (9-6), Ray Semproch (13-11) and Seth Morehead (1-6) as his starters.

"The pitching staff potentially is the best I've ever had," said Sawyer.

Sawyer also hopes for better hitting from Ed Bouchee, Stan Lopata and Wally Post, who had disappointing seasons in 1958.

Harry Anderson, the regular left fielder, gives every indication of being one of the top home run and RBI men in the league this year. Richie Ashburn, the National League batting champion, again will be in center field with Post in right. Bob Bowman and pinch hitter de luxe Dave Philley are the outfield alternates.

The infield shapes up with Bouchee at first, Anderson at second, Chico Fernandez at short and either Gene Freese or Willie Jones at third base.

"It will be all up to our hitting," Sawyer said. "I'm not worried about the pitching. We need a right-handed power hitter to become a contender. We're overweighted with left-handers. Where we'll get a right-handed hitter I don't know but if we should get one we'll be on even terms with anyone."

Reds' Slugger Gus Bell Almost Gave Up Game

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—It wasn't too many years ago that Gus Bell, slugging Cincinnati Reds' outfielder, was discouraged with baseball, disillusioned with himself and even homesick. His age at the time was 18.

It was a summer day in July 1947, when he stood in the outfield at Leesburg, Fla., and the bottom dropped out of his confidence.

"It was my first season in organized ball and . . . I began to think of my batting average, somewhere around .220. And I begin to think of what a lousy fielder I was. . . .

"After the game I walked up to Bill Good, the manager, and told him I was discouraged, homesick and wanted to get out of baseball. . . .

"We had a long talk. He told me I had a good future in the game if I worked hard. He said nothing came easy and asked me if I wouldn't reconsider seriously.

"I thought it over and believed Bill had given me a new outlook. I decided to stick it out and, well, here I am."

Here he is, indeed, a hardened, trim slugger who in these rosy days of spring training bids fair to hit .300 this season.

After two injury-plagued seasons—he batted .282 in 1957 and .252 last year—Bell thinks this will be his year of rejuvenation. The Reds hope so, too.

He belted two home runs Tuesday driving in three markers in the Reds' 5-0 exhibition victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

He broke his foot in a 1957 slide. Last year, he injured his foot again and then had a virus attack and blood poisoning.

Manager Mayo Smith said Tuesday: "I know Gus had an off-season last year but I'm confident he'll have a big one for us this year."

Showdown Set In NBA Final

BOSTON (AP) — The stubborn Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern division for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

All even after six games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental struggle to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will open the best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis-St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

Snead Rated 5-1 Choice In Masters Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead, budding star of television, was made the 5-1 betting favorite today to snare his fourth Masters golf championship.

Mainly on the strength of his phenomenal 13-match unbeaten streak in the nationally televised series, the West Virginia slugger drew top advance billing over Ken Venturi of San Francisco, 6-1, and a trio of past winners, defender Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, bracketed at 8-1.

Although open betting in this Dixie fairway extravaganza is strictly verboten, a bookmaker has printed a "line" which is flagrantly distributed in the hotel lobbies and around the course.

The 72-hole tournament — the 23rd edition of Bobby Jones' brainchild—opens Thursday on the lush Augusta National course where President Eisenhower's quick hook is no stranger. There's a round a day through Sunday.

The advance odds may undergo some quick revision overnight in view of the redhot practice performances of 1956 champion Jack Burke Jr. of Houston, Tex., who has had successive rounds of 66 and 64.

Snead, winner here in 1949, 1952 and 1954, is still riding the crest of his television winnings, which have amounted to $28,000.

Playing on tough courses, he met the game's top players and beat them all over a period of several months, ending last November. He averaged 67.2 strokes for 13 rounds, never went over 70 and had one 63—a record at Sea Island, Ga.

Milwaukee Trades Gene Conley For Help At Second Base

Braves Given Kazanski, O'Brien, Lopata In Deal

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 1951, the Philadelphia Phillies gave Ted Kazanski $80,000 to sign a bonus contract.

Two years later Pittsburgh gave Johnny O'Brien a "five-figure' sum to join the Pirates.

Tuesday the Milwaukee Braves gave the Phils virtually nothing but a longshot for both infielders, plus power-hitting catcher Stan Lopata.

The longshot is long (6-foot-8) Gene Conley, the basketball-playing pitcher who had 0-6 record for the National League champions last season. His earned run average was 4.88 in 26 innings. Since 1954, when he won 14 games as a rookie, the 28-year-old right-hander has been going downhill.

Going to Philadelphia with him were infielder - outfielder Harry Hanebrink and infielder Joe Koppe neither of whom is a proven major leaguer. Hanebrink, 31, hit only .188 in 63 games with the Braves last season, and Koppe, 27, appeared in only 16 games, going 4-for-9 in his infrequent batting chances.

Both O'Brien and Kazanski, although weak hitters, have proven they can play a major league season at second base, where the Braves need help the most. Kazanski is 25, O'Brien 28, and the latter a righthander, can pitch a few innings in a pinch. Lopata, 34, hit 116 home runs in 11 years with the Phils and he is a strong replacement for Braves' No. 1 catch Del Crandall.

The trade followed a full day of exhibition games in which Philadelphia and Milwaukee both lost.

Jim O'Toole, Cincinnati's $50,000 bonus left-hander, tossed no-hit ball for four innings as the Reds stopped the Phils 5-0 on three hits.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who continue to pace the NL with an 11-7 exhibition mark, whipped the Braves 9-2. The Dodgers broke a four-game losing streak as Gene Snyder and Billy Harris allowed the Braves only seven hits.

Kansas City beat the New York Yanks for the third straight day, 4-2. The A's got to rookie John Gabler in the ninth.

Baltimore, atop the major league spring standings with a 12-6 mark, had to go 11 innings against Washington before winning 9-8 on a two-run single by Bob Nieman.

The Chicago Cubs lashed Boston 11-6 after Red Sox starter Tom Brewer blew a four-run first inning lead fashioned by Bill Renna's grand slam homer. The Cubs banged out 16 hits, including homers by John Goryl and Earl Averill.

Bob Friend gave up 15 hits but went the route for Pittsburgh as the Pirates' defeated Detroit 6-5. Don Hoak homered in the eighth to break a 4-4 tie.

Blly Pierce and Bob Shaw combined on a six-hitter for the Chicago White Sox in a 5-1 victory over St. Louis.

San Francisco, getting homers from Bob Schmidt and Orlando Cepeda, defeated Cleveland 7-5.

Spirited Contests Seen In Pan-American Trials

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ask long-time basketball observers the most spiritied contests they've seen —chances are you'll be surprised how many mention vicious practice sessions or intra-squad games.

The Pan-American Games trials here tomorrow, Friday and Saturday seem destined to produce similar results.

All the players will be trying to get on the "first team" — the U.S. squad for the Pan-Am games at Northwestern University this summer.

Too, many foes in the round-robin trials are former teammates. And the clincher is that, in case of a tie for first place, the title will be decided on point margins—meaning each team will try to win by as much as possible.

The champs will place at least five and no more than seven players among the 20 to enter the final trials. Twelve will be picked for the U. S. team.

AAU Champion Wichita and another big, smooth unit, AAU runnerup Bartlesville, Okla., share the favorites' role. But the Armed Forces All-Stars and the College All-Stars are loaded with individual talent.

And, since each team will play all the others during the trials, plenty of former college teammates will tangle.

For example, All-America Jerry West of the collegians and Lloyd Sharrar of Wichita played together at West Virginia. All-America Johnny Cox of the collegians and Adrian Smith and John Brewer of the service stars all played together for Kentucky.

Others from the same schools include Dick Boushka (Wichita) and Bob Ferry (Collegians), from St. Louis; Walter Torrence (Collegians and Conrad Burke (Armed Forces), from UCLA; and Bud Jean Gerard (Armed Forces) and Burdie Haldorson (Bartlesville), from Colorado.

Wichita meets the Armed Forces at 8:30 p.m. (EST) in tomorrow's opener, with the Collegians playing Bartlesville in the nightcap.

All the teams plan workouts today at the 18,500-seat Freedom Hall, where the trials will be played.

DiSalle Asks Probe On Cut-Rate Lab Fees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he has called for an investigation of reports that Zoltan Gombos of Cleveland, a State Racing Commission member, tried to obtain cut-rate fees on laboratory tests for a northern Ohio horse track.

DiSalle said Tuesday that Rep. Raymond C. Motley (D-Butler) asked him to call for Gombos' resignation.

DiSalle told newsmen he will take no action until he hears the commission member's side of the story at a meeting with Gombos on Friday.

Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, who established a new National Basketball Assn. scoring record this season, received the most votes for the NBA All-Star squad. But he failed by one ballot to be a unanimous choice.

Hawks, Leafs Even Series

By The Associated Press

The injury list seems to be playing the biggest part in a deadlocked Stanley Cup semifinal series, thanks to the rough play of the two supposed "easy marks."

The Chicago Black Hawks and Toronto Maple Leafs have taken the favored Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins back to the latter's home bases with the best of seven series tied at two-all after Tuesday night's victories.

The Hawks laced the Canadiens 3-1 in Chicago and Toronto delighted the home folks with a thrilling 3-2 overtime victory over Boston.

Both games were characterized by the body-numbing checking and sleek skating that jolted the Canadiens and Bruins last Saturday.

The two clubs still were feeling the effects. Montreal was not the same club that scourged the National Hockey League during the regular season without Jean Beliveau, a doubtful participant no matter if the Canadiens make the Stanley Cup finals.

A jarring check by Glen Skov Saturday fractured two vertebrae and forced Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake to move Henri Richard into Beliveau's spot on Montreal's high - scoring line with Dickie Moore and Marcel Bonin, weakening his second line.

Lorne Ferguson's 20-foot shot at 6:34 of the third period broke a 1-1 tie and the insurance marker came in the last minute as Chicago fired one into an unprotected Montreal goal.

Boston played without hard-charging defenseman Doug Mohns, who also was injured last Saturday.

But the Leafs heaped their credit on left-winger Frank Mahovvich, who scored the winning goal at 11:21 of a sudden-death period, and goalie Johnny Bower.

Mahovlich would have none of it.

"The guy who deserves the credit is Johnny Bower," he said. Bower made a hairline stop on Vic Stasiuk's shot just before the two-minute mark of the sudden death period, which his teammates termed the real "gamesaver."

Both series will be one game affairs in each city until a winner is decided.

Police Raid Still But First Had To Outsmart 2 Dogs

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police raided a still in a private residence on Cleveland's east side, but they had to outsmart two watchdogs to do it.

The collie and Doberman Pinscher were posted at the rear of the house and apparently were trained as lookouts against anyone in uniform, police said.

When Deputy Inspector Ralph E. Schoonmaker and his men saw the dogs Tuesday, they switched their tactics and charged to the front of the house and up the front stairway.

Five men were arrested, including Mose Hooks, 50, owner and occupant of the house, and police found 10 large drums containing 440 gallons of fermenting corn mash plus six gallons of finished moonshine.

Hooks told police he didn't know how the equipment and moonshine got there.

Harris Meets Fleeman On TV Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Harris has his third fight since his failure against world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when he meets light heavyweight Donnie Fleeman tonight.

The speedy young man from Cut and Shoot rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and show he's still one of the top boxers of the major class. He thinks this will help him in getting another title match if Patterson gets rid of two boxers he'll meet soon — Brian London and Ingemar Johansson.

Harris fought Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion who ranks ninth nationally, last December and won by a mile although unable to deck Fleeman.

The fight tonight will be nationally televised and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship, something Harris had held for several years.

The 12-round bout goes on at 9 p. m. (CST). Harris will weigh 200, Fleeman 181. The scoring will be by the 10-point must system.

Top Sprinters Will Feature Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dashes by some of the top-ranked sprinters in the nation will feature the Texas Relays here Friday and Saturday.

Nationally ranked performers are entered in almost every university class event.

Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian, Olympic spring champ, and Ira Murchison of Chicago, national Collegiate 100-yard dash champion in 1958, will meet in a special invitational 100-meter race.

Murchison and Morrow are two of several former national champions entered. Others include Ollan Cassell, a fellow sprinter from Houston who won the AAU 220 two years ago; Eddie Southern of Texas, who won the AAU 440 last spring; Don Stewart of SMU, who won last year's NCAA high jump; Ernie Shelby of Kansas, the reigning NCAA broad jump king; Jim Graham of Oklahoma State, NCAA pole vault co-champ in 1956; and John Macy of Houston, last year's AAU six-mile champ and the AAU three-mile champ in 1957.

Estate Of Earl Jones Valued At $520,625

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The estate left by Earl J. Jones, who died in December 1957, was valued at $520,625 in an inventory filed Tuesday in Probate Court here.

Jones was a prominent coal mine operator and newspaper publisher, running the big Misco Mines in the Zanesville area and publishing the Massillon Independent and the now defunct Zanesville News.

His will, in which he left one-third of the estate to his widow, Susie White Jones, and the remainder to relatives, is being contested.

Sit This Out is the first offspring of the great Native Dancer to win a stakes race. The filly won the Maryland Futurity at Laurel last year.

Bulletin No. 2 Waited Today On Red Sox Slugger

BOSTON (AP) — Hospital bulletin No. 2 was awaited today on the condition of Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, unwilling owner of baseball's celebrated pain in the neck.

The 40-year-old outfielder was protected from outsiders while doctors attempted to determine the cause of his ailment at New England Baptist Hospital.

A 46-word bulletin in mid-day Tuesday gave out little information except that Williams had "a rather uncomfortable night" because of pains in the neck and right shoulder.

Orthopedic specialists conferred, but there was no further announcement. The arrival of Dr. James L. Poppen back from vacation reportedly was awaited by other doctors.

X-rays at the hospital confirmed that Ted apparently has no broken or dislocated bones and evidently is not suffering from arthritis.

The two clubs still were feeling the effects. Montreal was not the same club that scourged the National Hockey League during the regular season without Jean Beliveau, a doubtful participant no matter if the Canadiens make the Stanley Cup finals.

A jarring check by Glen Skov Saturday fractured two vertebrae and forced Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake to move Henri Richard into Beliveau's spot on Montreal's high - scoring line with Dickie Moore and Marcel Bonin, weakening his second line.

Lorne Ferguson's 20-foot shot at 6:34 of the third period broke a 1-1 tie and the insurance marker came in the last minute as Chicago fired one into an unprotected Montreal goal.

Boston played without hard-charging defenseman Doug Mohns, who also was injured last Saturday.

But the Leafs heaped their credit on left-winger Frank Mahovvich, who scored the winning goal at 11:21 of a sudden-death period, and goalie Johnny Bower.

Mahovlich would have none of it.

"The guy who deserves the credit is Johnny Bower," he said. Bower made a hairline stop on Vic Stasiuk's shot just before the two-minute mark of the sudden death period, which his teammates termed the real "gamesaver."

Both series will be one game affairs in each city until a winner is decided.

Police Raid Still But First Had To Outsmart 2 Dogs

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police raided a still in a private residence on Cleveland's east side, but they had to outsmart two watchdogs to do it.

The collie and Doberman Pinscher were posted at the rear of the house and apparently were trained as lookouts against anyone in uniform, police said.

When Deputy Inspector Ralph E. Schoonmaker and his men saw the dogs Tuesday, they switched their tactics and charged to the front of the house and up the front stairway.

Five men were arrested, including Mose Hooks, 50, owner and occupant of the house, and police found 10 large drums containing 440 gallons of fermenting corn mash plus six gallons of finished moonshine.

Hooks told police he didn't know how the equipment and moonshine got there.

Harris Meets Fleeman On TV Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Harris has his third fight since his failure against world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when he meets light heavyweight Donnie Fleeman tonight.

The speedy young man from Cut and Shoot rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and show he's still one of the top boxers of the major class. He thinks this will help him in getting another title match if Patterson gets rid of two boxers he'll meet soon — Brian London and Ingemar Johansson.

Harris fought Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion who ranks ninth nationally, last December and won by a mile although unable to deck Fleeman.

The fight tonight will be nationally televised and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship, something Harris had held for several years.

The 12-round bout goes on at 9 p. m. (CST). Harris will weigh 200, Fleeman 181. The scoring will be by the 10-point must system.

Murchison and Morrow are two of several former national champions entered. Others include Ollan Cassell, a fellow sprinter from Houston who won the AAU 220 two years ago; Eddie Southern of Texas, who won the AAU 440 last spring; Don Stewart of SMU, who won last year's NCAA high jump; Ernie Shelby of Kansas, the reigning NCAA broad jump king; Jim Graham of Oklahoma State, NCAA pole vault co-champ in 1956; and John Macy of Houston, last year's AAU six-mile champ and the AAU three-mile champ in 1957.

Estate Of Earl Jones Valued At $520,625

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The estate left by Earl J. Jones, who died in December 1957, was valued at $520,625 in an inventory filed Tuesday in Probate Court here.

Jones was a prominent coal mine operator and newspaper publisher, running the big Misco Mines in the Zanesville area and publishing the Massillon Independent and the now defunct Zanesville News.

His will, in which he left one-third of the estate to his widow, Susie White Jones, and the remainder to relatives, is being contested.

Sit This Out is the first offspring of the great Native Dancer to win a stakes race. The filly won the Maryland Futurity at Laurel last year.

Bulletin No. 2 Waited Today On Red Sox Slugger

BOSTON (AP) — Hospital bulletin No. 2 was awaited today on the condition of Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, unwilling owner of baseball's celebrated pain in the neck.

The 40-year-old outfielder was protected from outsiders while doctors attempted to determine the cause of his ailment at New England Baptist Hospital.

A 46-word bulletin in mid-day Tuesday gave out little information except that Williams had "a rather uncomfortable night" because of pains in the neck and right shoulder.

Orthopedic specialists conferred, but there was no further announcement. The arrival of Dr. James L. Poppen back from vacation reportedly was awaited by other doctors.

X-rays at the hospital confirmed that Ted apparently has no broken or dislocated bones and evidently is not suffering from arthritis.

2 Face Count Of Attempted Child Stealing

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Two California men face preliminary hearing next Monday on child-stealing charges in the attempted theft of the children of former West Virginia University basketball coach Dyke Raese.

Roy G. Moulton, 49, a San Jose private detective, and Charles Lewis, 33, a railroad conductor from Warm Springs, pleaded innocent to the charges yesterday when arraigned in Justice Court. Both were returned to jail after failing to post bonds of $2,500 each.

Moulton said he was attempting to return Richard Raese Jr., 10, and his brother, John 2, to their mother Mrs. Jane Kelly. She divorced Raese four years ago and has since remarried. Another boy, David, 6, evaded seizure by jumping into the swimming pool.

Raese, who lives at Morgantown, W. Va., claims he was given custody right at the time of divorce.

Moulton said Mrs. Kelly showed him a copy of a court order from Dade County, Fla., giving her custody. He said he would not have undertaken the job if he was not convinced of Mrs. Kelly's legal claim.

Moulton showed the court a $1,000 check which he said was tendered by Mrs. Kelly as a retainer. He said she promised him an additional $5,000 if the children were brought to her.

Mrs. Kelly is the former Jane Greer of Morgantown, W. Va. Raese is executive vice president of the Greer Steel Co. Mrs. Kelly had been staying at the nearby Smoke Tree Ranch, police said. They said she left for Los Angeles after learning that Moulton and Lewis had been arrested.

The two men were chased by Palm Springs citizens after they heard the children screaming. A police roadblock trapped their station wagon about four miles from here.

Democratic Factions Rule Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A coalition of Democratic factions won control of the city government Tuesday, overthrowing the non-partisan organization which smashed the Pendergast machine in 1940.

The Democratic coalition won five seats on the 8-member City Council and ended 19 years of government by the Citizens Assn., an organization of Democrats, Republicans and independents.

It was the first defeat ever suffered by the association, formed specifically to challenge the underworld-infested machine of the late Tom Pendergast.

The Citizens Assn. ran on its record, claiming numerous civic improvements and a scandal-free administration. Association candidates said a coalition victory would mean a return of underworld influence.

Higher taxes, real and proposed, apparently played a primary role in the association's defeat.

Citizens Assn. incumbents retained three seats on the council and Mayor H. Roe Bartle, also an association man, won re-election. Three of these men were endorsed by both the association and the coalition and faced only independent opponents. The fourth, Democratic councilman Harry Davis, was unopposed.

Salineville Seeks Bids For Sale Of City Hall

SALINEVILLE — Deadline for submitting bids for the purchase of the Village Hall of Main St. is noon May 16, Clerk S. R. Davis has announced.

Council recently authorized sale of the three-story brick structure, planning to move municipal offices to the second story of the fire station owned by the community.

Bids are to be submitted to the clerk's office. Terms of sale will be cash and no bids less than $3,000 will be considered.

Council advertised for bids last year, but none was received. The first two stories of the building were constructed in 1892, and the third story added in 1904. There is a storeroom on the first floor.

2 Face Count Of Attempted Child Stealing

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Two California men face preliminary hearing next Monday on child-stealing charges in the attempted theft of the children of former West Virginia University basketball coach Dyke Raese.

Roy G. Moulton, 49, a San Jose private detective, and Charles Lewis, 33, a railroad conductor from Warm Springs, pleaded innocent to the charges yesterday when arraigned in Justice Court. Both were returned to jail after failing to post bonds of $2,500 each.

Moulton said he was attempting to return Richard Raese Jr., 10, and his brother, John 2, to their mother Mrs. Jane Kelly. She divorced Raese four years ago and has since remarried. Another boy, David, 6, evaded seizure by jumping into the swimming pool.

Raese, who lives at Morgantown, W. Va., claims he was given custody right at the time of divorce.

Moulton said Mrs. Kelly showed him a copy of a court order from Dade County, Fla., giving her custody. He said he would not have undertaken the job if he was not convinced of Mrs. Kelly's legal claim.

Moulton showed the court a $1,000 check which he said was tendered by Mrs. Kelly as a retainer. He said she promised him an additional $5,000 if the children were brought to her.

Mrs. Kelly is the former Jane Greer of Morgantown, W. Va. Raese is executive vice president of the Greer Steel Co. Mrs. Kelly had been staying at the nearby Smoke Tree Ranch, police said. They said she left for Los Angeles after learning that Moulton and Lewis had been arrested.

The two men were chased by Palm Springs citizens after they heard the children screaming. A police roadblock trapped their station wagon about four miles from here.

Democratic Factions Rule Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A coalition of Democratic factions won control of the city government Tuesday, overthrowing the non-partisan organization which smashed the Pendergast machine in 1940.

The Democratic coalition won five seats on the 8-member City Council and ended 19 years of government by the Citizens Assn., an organization of Democrats, Republicans and independents.

It was the first defeat ever suffered by the association, formed specifically to challenge the underworld-infested machine of the late Tom Pendergast.

The Citizens Assn. ran on its record, claiming numerous civic improvements and a scandal-free administration. Association candidates said a coalition victory would mean a return of underworld influence.

Higher taxes, real and proposed, apparently played a primary role in the association's defeat.

Citizens Assn. incumbents retained three seats on the council and Mayor H. Roe Bartle, also an association man, won re-election. Three of these men were endorsed by both the association and the coalition and faced only independent opponents. The fourth, Democratic councilman Harry Davis, was unopposed.

Limitations, Financial Demands

Site For Boys State Due First Move In 10 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—They are moving Buckeye Boys State for the first time in 10 years.

The American Legion's youth encampment in self - government has been held each summer since 1950 at Camp Perry, on the shores of Lake Erie just west of Port Clinton.

But the Legion's Ohio Department says it will have to look elsewhere for a site because of what it called severe limitations and financial demands made by State Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom.

These demands include a $1,500 charge for heat and light, and an unestimated charge for use of the club house and huts used by Legion members who serve as instructors.

The limitations that Windom wants to impose, the Legion said, are to eliminate use of the camp theater for night meetings (because the Pennsylvania National Guard will be in camp and the theater used for movies); restrict the use of canteen space, and house National Guardmen in huts adjacent to boys state huts.

But the major issue that will force boys state to pull out of Camp Perry concerns the use of certain permanent-type buildings.

According to E. J. Sklenicka of Cleveland, president of Boys State trustees:

"Gen. Windom also claimed that in previous years the boys caused much damage to the huts they occupied, which were built about 1942 for prisoners of war. He asserted this damage amounted to $5,000 to $10,000 but admitted Camp Perry management had no records to substantiate the claim."

Sklenicka also said Windom advised the trustees that Camp Perry probably will not be available to Boys State in future years due to its increasing use by National Guard troops who hold summer training there.

Sklenicka said the free use of Camp Perry has been Ohio's contribution toward a better understanding of government operations.

The decision to change the site followed a meeting of Boys State trustees with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle on Monday, and subsequent action of the trustees.

Since 1936, Sklenicka said, about 16,800 high school youths have attended the encampments. They elect a governor and other state, county and city officials. Their legislature passes laws and their state highway patrol enforces them.

Before 1950, the encampments were held on various college campuses and at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Judge Upholds Authorities

Closing Of Amish Schools Ordered In Hardin County

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Tudor Tuesday ordered two Amish schools in Hardin County to cease operations.

He thus upheld county school authorities who had sought an injunction to close the schools because they did not meet state educational standards.

It was expected that the granting of the injunction would be appealed to higher courts by E. Guy Hammond of Cuyahoga Falls, the attorney who has been acting for the Amish Mennonite sect in this community.

The injunction will not take effect until entries have been filed by the county prosecutor and the defense attorney. Hammond was given a "reasonable time" in which to file his entry and court observers said it probably will take the form of an appeal.

Hammond, in the recent two-day hearing of the injunction action, indicated repeatedly he will seek a higher court ruling on the constitutionality of the state's minimum educational requirements. The Amish had not conformed to those requirements, the county charged.

Judge Tudor's ruling enjoins 39 Amish parents from sending their children to the schools until they meet state standards, and the teachers from instructing the children until they are qualified. The injunction also restrains the sect from operating the schools.

The judge also ruled that the Amish are "obliged" to send their children to a public or non-tax-supported school which conforms to state standards.

The judge said granting of a defense request for special permission to operate the schools would be unconstitutional since "this action would be a denial of the equal protection of the law to youth of school age."

Appeal bond was placed at $100 and the Amish were ordered to pay the court costs.

Two school teachers of the sect testified at the recent hearing that science is a major obstacle in reconciling Amish teachings with Ohio's minimum school standards.

The schools involved are both one-room buildings and are within seven miles of this north central community of 10,000 people.

Army To Pitch Biggest 'Tent' To Inspect, Maintain Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is going to pitch its biggest tent next month — a supersize structure supporting itself by air pressure and intended for use in inspecting and maintaining missiles.

The futuristic shelter is called a "Pentadome" because it is made up of five shelters—a large center dome and four connecting smaller domes.

The Pentadome will be set up for the first time about April 6 at the Buffalo, N.Y., plant of Birdair Structures, Inc., which fabricated the structure for the Army.

As broad as its base as half the length of a football field, the main dome will be 150 feet in diameter and 85 feet high. Each of the smaller domes will be 100 feet in diameter and 50 feet high.

The fabric is vinyl-coated nylon, with 18,000 square yards used. Total weight is 9,500 pounds.

Unlike other big tents, no poles or frames are used. Electric blowers maintain a constant pressure to keep the tent inflated. A system of air-lock doors prevents the pressure from escaping.

The internal pressure can be varied to meet changing wind conditions. It is designed to withstand constant wind pressure of 70 miles per hour and gusts of even higher velocity.

The Pentadome was developed by Birdair Structures at the request of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, for use in field checks and upkeep of big rocket weapons.

Boy, 12, Tells Police Of 3-Week Crime Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 12-year-old boy told police he was driven into a three-week crime spree by a desire to change addresses instead of diapers.

The youngster, picked up after running away from his home in nearby Altadena, admitted committing some 20 residential burglaries in which more than $200 was taken.

He told juvenile officers he wanted to go to Pennsylvania to look for his father, whom he hadn't seen in five years. There are four younger children in his family, he said, and his mother is expecting again.

Faced with this situation, he decided: "I didn't want to change any more diapers."

Man Wins $25,000 Damages For Injuries

CINCINNATI (AP)—A U.S. District Federal Court jury awarded a Pike County man $25,000 in damages Tuesday for injuries suffered when his car was struck from behind by a truck.

Clarence Ross of Rt. 2, Beaver, an ironworker, had sued Catshall & Son, Brazil, Ind., owners of the truck, for $125,000, charging injuries in the accident aggravated his arthritis.

The accident occurred in Scioto County on U.S. 52 four miles west of the Lawrence County line on July 5, 1956.

Expert Says Spring Fever Real Ailment

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A University of Michigan meteorologist says spring fever is a real ailment caused by the reaction of warm air on the winterized body.

"As environmental temperatures get higher, the body has to reduce its insulation by enlarging the small blood vessels so the blood gets to the surface in large amounts," says Prof. E. Wendell Hewson.

This, he says, causes spring fever and, he adds, there is no known cure.

Limitations, Financial Demands

Site For Boys State Due First Move In 10 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—They are moving Buckeye Boys State for the first time in 10 years.

The American Legion's youth encampment in self - government has been held each summer since 1950 at Camp Perry, on the shores of Lake Erie just west of Port Clinton.

But the Legion's Ohio Department says it will have to look elsewhere for a site because of what it called severe limitations and financial demands made by State Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom.

These demands include a $1,500 charge for heat and light, and an unestimated charge for use of the club house and huts used by Legion members who serve as instructors.

The limitations that Windom wants to impose, the Legion said, are to eliminate use of the camp theater for night meetings (because the Pennsylvania National Guard will be in camp and the theater used for movies); restrict the use of canteen space, and house National Guardmen in huts adjacent to boys state huts.

But the major issue that will force boys state to pull out of Camp Perry concerns the use of certain permanent-type buildings.

According to E. J. Sklenicka of Cleveland, president of Boys State trustees:

"Gen. Windom also claimed that in previous years the boys caused much damage to the huts they occupied, which were built about 1942 for prisoners of war. He asserted this damage amounted to $5,000 to $10,000 but admitted Camp Perry management had no records to substantiate the claim."

Sklenicka also said Windom advised the trustees that Camp Perry probably will not be available to Boys State in future years due to its increasing use by National Guard troops who hold summer training there.

Sklenicka said the free use of Camp Perry has been Ohio's contribution toward a better understanding of government operations.

The decision to change the site followed a meeting of Boys State trustees with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle on Monday, and subsequent action of the trustees.

Since 1936, Sklenicka said, about 16,800 high school youths have attended the encampments. They elect a governor and other state, county and city officials. Their legislature passes laws and their state highway patrol enforces them.

Before 1950, the encampments were held on various college campuses and at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Judge Upholds Authorities

Closing Of Amish Schools Ordered In Hardin County

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Tudor Tuesday ordered two Amish schools in Hardin County to cease operations.

He thus upheld county school authorities who had sought an injunction to close the schools because they did not meet state educational standards.

It was expected that the granting of the injunction would be appealed to higher courts by E. Guy Hammond of Cuyahoga Falls, the attorney who has been acting for the Amish Mennonite sect in this community.

The injunction will not take effect until entries have been filed by the county prosecutor and the defense attorney. Hammond was given a "reasonable time" in which to file his entry and court observers said it probably will take the form of an appeal.

Hammond, in the recent two-day hearing of the injunction action, indicated repeatedly he will seek a higher court ruling on the constitutionality of the state's minimum educational requirements. The Amish had not conformed to those requirements, the county charged.

Judge Tudor's ruling enjoins 39 Amish parents from sending their children to the schools until they meet state standards, and the teachers from instructing the children until they are qualified. The injunction also restrains the sect from operating the schools.

The judge also ruled that the Amish are "obliged" to send their children to a public or non-tax-supported school which conforms to state standards.

The judge said granting of a defense request for special permission to operate the schools would be unconstitutional since "this action would be a denial of the equal protection of the law to youth of school age."

Appeal bond was placed at $100 and the Amish were ordered to pay the court costs.

Two school teachers of the sect testified at the recent hearing that science is a major obstacle in reconciling Amish teachings with Ohio's minimum school standards.

The schools involved are both one-room buildings and are within seven miles of this north central community of 10,000 people.

Army To Pitch Biggest 'Tent' To Inspect, Maintain Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is going to pitch its biggest tent next month — a supersize structure supporting itself by air pressure and intended for use in inspecting and maintaining missiles.

The futuristic shelter is called a "Pentadome" because it is made up of five shelters—a large center dome and four connecting smaller domes.

The Pentadome will be set up for the first time about April 6 at the Buffalo, N.Y., plant of Birdair Structures, Inc., which fabricated the structure for the Army.

As broad as its base as half the length of a football field, the main dome will be 150 feet in diameter and 85 feet high. Each of the smaller domes will be 100 feet in diameter and 50 feet high.

The fabric is vinyl-coated nylon, with 18,000 square yards used. Total weight is 9,500 pounds.

Unlike other big tents, no poles or frames are used. Electric blowers maintain a constant pressure to keep the tent inflated. A system of air-lock doors prevents the pressure from escaping.

The internal pressure can be varied to meet changing wind conditions. It is designed to withstand constant wind pressure of 70 miles per hour and gusts of even higher velocity.

The Pentadome was developed by Birdair Structures at the request of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, for use in field checks and upkeep of big rocket weapons.

Boy, 12, Tells Police Of 3-Week Crime Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 12-year-old boy told police he was driven into a three-week crime spree by a desire to change addresses instead of diapers.

The youngster, picked up after running away from his home in nearby Altadena, admitted committing some 20 residential burglaries in which more than $200 was taken.

He told juvenile officers he wanted to go to Pennsylvania to look for his father, whom he hadn't seen in five years. There are four younger children in his family, he said, and his mother is expecting again.

Faced with this situation, he decided: "I didn't want to change any more diapers."

Man Wins $25,000 Damages For Injuries

CINCINNATI (AP)—A U.S. District Federal Court jury awarded a Pike County man $25,000 in damages Tuesday for injuries suffered when his car was struck from behind by a truck.

Clarence Ross of Rt. 2, Beaver, an ironworker, had sued Catshall & Son, Brazil, Ind., owners of the truck, for $125,000, charging injuries in the accident aggravated his arthritis.

The accident occurred in Scioto County on U.S. 52 four miles west of the Lawrence County line on July 5, 1956.

Expert Says Spring Fever Real Ailment

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A University of Michigan meteorologist says spring fever is a real ailment caused by the reaction of warm air on the winterized body.

"As environmental temperatures get higher, the body has to reduce its insulation by enlarging the small blood vessels so the blood gets to the surface in large amounts," says Prof. E. Wendell Hewson.

This, he says, causes spring fever and, he adds, there is no known cure.

Students In West Virginia Relieved Of Tuition Increase

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia students at nine state colleges Tuesday were relieved of a $100 a year tuition increase ordered in January.

The State Board of Education rescinded the action, which was to have gone into effect next fall, because an increase of the same amount was brought about by the Legislature through a change in registration fees.

Board President Raymond Brewster of Huntington explained at the opening of a two-day board meeting that the tuition increase was made originally to indicate the members' thinking to the Legislature. He said the Senate and House finance committees had been promised that a duplication would be avoided.

The result of the decision is that fulltime West Virginia students will pay, as heretofore, $25 a semester in tuition. But, in addition, from now on, they'll be liable for the new $50 registration fee, payable each semester.

Out-of-state students, likewise, will continue to pay the established tuition of $175 per semester plus the $50 registration fee. The board had ordered a tuition increase to $187.50. This also was rescinded.

The extra money is to go toward campus building programs and in meeting increased salaries and current expenses.

Scaling down of the new registration fee for summer sessions and part time was left to the discretion of the board by the Legislature. The board set a charge of $4 per semester hour with the proviso that $50 would be the maximum.

H. K. Baer, board secretary, assured members that the Legislature's action did not prevent later increases in tuition by the board, if desired. The present amounts are the minimums set by law.

Once the problem of fees was settled, the board approved a resolution authorizing the construction of a Marshall College Health and Physical Education Building and the issuance of $1,328,000 in bonds to help meet the cost. Bids were to be opened later today and the construction contract awarded.

Temporary Light's Installed At Crosswalk

CINCINNATI (AP)—City workers installed a temporary amber flashing light Tuesday at a crosswalk where four pedestrians have been killed by autos in the past month.

The accidents brought protests from residents of the area.

Prosecutor Gets Head Start On April Fool's Day

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The assistant prosecutor got a head start on April Fool's Day—quite unintentionally.

Glen Mumpower, introducing his first witness in a first-degree manslaughter trial here Tuesday, called for Jane Woodgeard.

There was a laugh in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court until Deputy Coroner Joe Wood declared:

"If she shows up, I'm leaving!"

Jane Woodgeard, 21, was the victim in the slaying for which her husband, Norman, 29, is standing trial. Woodgeard claims he was practing a "fast draw" and shot her accidentally. But before she died last July, she told authorities her husband shot her in a jealous rage.

The assistant prosecutor meant to call Marilyn Woodgeard, the defendant's sister, to the witness stand.

Cars Crash At Lisbon

LISBON — Cars of Wayne R. Westover, 17, of S. Lincoln Ave., and Arthur J. Frankenburg, 20, of Rogers collided on the Public Square Tuesday morning, according to police, who said Westover had entered the crosswalk when the traffic light changed and backed up, striking the other car, which was stopped.

Prosecutor Gets Head Start On April Fool's Day

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The assistant prosecutor got a head start on April Fool's Day—quite unintentionally.

Glen Mumpower, introducing his first witness in a first-degree manslaughter trial here Tuesday, called for Jane Woodgeard.

There was a laugh in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court until Deputy Coroner Joe Wood declared:

"If she shows up, I'm leaving!"

Jane Woodgeard, 21, was the victim in the slaying for which her husband, Norman, 29, is standing trial. Woodgeard claims he was practing a "fast draw" and shot her accidentally. But before she died last July, she told authorities her husband shot her in a jealous rage.

The assistant prosecutor meant to call Marilyn Woodgeard, the defendant's sister, to the witness stand.

LISBON — Cars of Wayne R. Westover, 17, of S. Lincoln Ave., and Arthur J. Frankenburg, 20, of Rogers collided on the Public Square Tuesday morning, according to police, who said Westover had entered the crosswalk when the traffic light changed and backed up, striking the other car, which was stopped.
